Agent at One Time Thought Missing To Testify.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 28—Chairman Brewster (R-Me) of the senate war investigating committee said today a globe-trotting employe of Howard Hughes, millionaire manufacturer, has agreed to tell what he knows about the award of $40,000,000 worth of wartime government plane contracts to Hughes.

Brewster told a reporter that the Hughes employe, John Meyer, notified the committee staff this morning he will testify before a subcommittee whenever it wishes to call him.

He had been scheduled to appear next Wednesday before a public inquiry opening today into Hughes' and Henry J. Kaiser's plane contracts with the government.

Meyer had been reported out of the country, and the subcommittee previously had been making efforts to find him to issue a summons.

At a closed preliminary inquiry June 3, Meyer laid before the subcommittee various purported expense accounts of parties at which he said high government officials were entertained.

The subcommittee has been inquiring into negotiations which led to award of the plane contracts. Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) of the subcommittee said as he opened the hearing today that neither of the planes Hughes developed has been accepted by the government.

A former war production board official testified as the hearing opened that Kaiser contended in 1942 that he could develop a completely new cargo plane in 10 months, but that was regarded by the army and navy as "completely fantastic."

The witness, Merrill C. Meigs of Chicago, a Hearst newspaper executive and former chief of WPB's aircraft division, told the subcommittee that Kaiser, the auto manufacturer and Liberty ship wizard, came to Washington in July 1942, and gave to the newspapers statements that he could start production of a new cargo plane in 10 months.

"That was completely fantastic, but inasmuch as Mr. Kaiser had a very fine background...we were designated to examine his plans as to how he was going to do this," Meigs said.

Ferguson asked whether it was customary to air proposals for any

80TH CONGRESS TAKES STOCK AFTER SESSION

Domestic Strife, Foreign Accord Appear To Be Pattern at Half-Way Point.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 28—Sign posts pointing toward teamwork with the White House on world affairs, slugging matches on domestic problems and hot 1948 election issues stand out along the rough road the 80th congress traveled to its own half-way mark.

The first session crashed to a close in Sunday's early hours.

Adjournment until January—unless President Truman or Republican leaders call an emergency session sooner—shot off a raucous, roaring political scrap in the senate and a back-slapping, rollicking song fest in the house.

Weary members now are beating a path back home to find out what people think of this first "streamlined" congress, this first Republican-controlled congress in a decade and a half.

The grass roots reaction is important. Top issues already are shaping up for next year's electioneering for a president, all 435 house members and 32 of the 96 senators. For instance:

There are taxes and labor, the high cost of living and the high cost of government.

Plenty of Leftovers

And there are enough legislative leftovers for the next session to concoct a sizeable dish of political controversies.

Held on the book until next winter were such measures as universal military training, long-range housing, military cooperation with Latin America, a minimum wage boost for the lowest paid interstate workers and a loyalty checks on government workers.

It was a political battle royal in the senate that kept congress on the job on a Sabbath for the first time since 1929.

Democrats had succeeded in blocking a Republican bid for a full-scale investigation into Attorney General Clark's handling of vote fraud charges in Kansas City.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) tried to get even by preventing approval of the nomination of Philip B. Perlman of Baltimore to be solicitor general, a top-rank spot under Clark.

Tempers were raw and faces flushed after Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) complained that Democrats had filibustered against the vote fraud inquiry and Senator Connally (D-Tex) came back with an angry reply. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), as presiding officer, at one point ordered Connally to "take his seat."

Brewster finally gave up. The senate confirmed Perlman 58 to 21 and adjourned at 3:49 a. m. (2:49 a. m. EST).

In the house, members had finished a final fling of Republican-Democratic bickering over economy around 9 p. m. Saturday.

So, arms around shoulders, they gave up to close harmony—of the barbershop variety. They tuned up in old favorites, like "Home Sweet Home." Shortly after midnight they voted to go there.

CONGRESSIONAL CLEANUP. A janitor clears away the litter around the rostrum on the house floor after midnight Saturday following adjournment of the house of representatives. The lower chamber, winding up in an outburst of song and fellowship, passed it's last bill and quit finally at 12:32 a. m. Sunday.

HOLDUPS IN 4 CITIES CLEARED UP BY ARRESTS

Pair Bound Over to Grand Jury Under $5,000 Bond In Municipal Court Today.

James Eugene Furniss, 26, and Wilbur Gruver, 29, of Barks road and Cheney avenue, pleaded not guilty in municipal court today when charged with the armed robbery of the Marion Western Union office last Tuesday. Both men waived examination and were bound over to grand jury under $5,000 bond by Judge Dexter Hazen.

Furniss and Gruver were arrested Friday by local officials as suspects in the Western Union holdup and of an Elyria, O., restaurant robbery Friday morning.

Police Captain E. C. Mackan said that Saturday afternoon the men signed written confessions after questioning in police headquarters. The confessions covered the Western Union robbery here last Tuesday, the Elyria restaurant robbery Friday morning, robberies of a Western Union office and hotel in Lima and a service station holdup in Norwalk.

Officers of the city police, sheriff's department and Ohio state patrol worked in cooperation after the statewide alarm was received here Friday giving a description of the robber who held up the Elyria restaurant at 10:45 a. m. Friday. The message gave the car license and stated that two men and woman were in the car.

Woman Still Held

A 22-year-old woman who was arrested Friday night after reporting for work at an uptown grill, is still being held for questioning. She admitted being with the two men in the car at Elyria, but denied knowledge of the other robberies. No charge has been filed against her.

She and another woman have been living at the Cheney avenue address with Gruver and Furniss for the past month, authorities said.

Furniss was arrested when officials spotted his car parked in front of a Davids street barber shop at shortly after 6 p. m. Friday. He had just had his hair cut and was still in the barber's chair when the arrest was made. The Elyria robber had been described in the message received here as being badly in need of a haircut.

Gruver was arrested by officers at the Cheney avenue residence where he was found in the act of pressing a pair of trousers for Furniss. State patrolmen and sheriff's county officials surrounded the house and ordered Gruver to come out with his hands up.

After he was arrested, the officers conducted a search of the premises and located the clothing worn on the Elyria job discarded in the attic.

The men were questioned at police station Saturday afternoon and the armed robbery charges were filed this morning. Affidavits were signed by Capt. E. C. Mackan, serving in the absence of Chief William E. Marks.

Car Provides Clue

The arrests were made after state patrol received a description of the armed bandit shortly before noon Saturday and the license number of the car which was seen leaving the Elyria restaurant with three occupants, two men and a woman. Members of all three departments worked together here after Sheriff Roy Retterer recalled seeing the car in question parked at the Cheney avenue address when he was working on another case.

When questioned Saturday afternoon by Capt. E. C. Mackan, acting chief in the absence of Chief William E. Marks, and before police and sheriff officials, Furniss readily admitted the two recent holdups and confessed to three others, two of which had not previously been reported, officers said today.

He stated that Gruver drove the car for the socalled on the Marion Western Union and Elyria robberies, but he was alone on the three other jobs.

Furniss said he used a Plymouth coupe for some jobs and a Packard sedan for others. It was the sedan that was spotted at Elyria. Both cars are owned by a brother of Furniss.

Names Gruver As Driver

In his confession Furniss told police Gruver drove him in the corner of Oak and Center streets last Tuesday at about 10:40 p. m. where he let him out then drove to Pearl street to wait for Furniss to rejoin him. Furniss said he entered the Western Union office on West Center street, pulled a rusty-about pistol 32 caliber revolver out and forced Lucy Lou, night operator to walk to the rear and give him the money she counted in the safe.

Mother of Nation's President To Be Buried This Afternoon In Simple, Private Ceremony

By The Associated Press

GRANDVIEW, Mo., July 28 — Mrs. Martha Ellen Truman, daughter of a Missouri pioneer farmer and mother of the nation's President, will be buried this afternoon on a shaded knoll in Kansas City—the town where she was born 94 years ago.

The ceremony will be simple and private, as the mother and her devoted son, Harry S. Truman, had previously agreed. The funeral services beginning at 3 p. m., Central standard time (4 p. m. EST) in Mrs. Truman's plainly furnished living room were for the family alone.

Only three or four cars will follow Mrs. Truman's cortege on its 17-mile trip to Forest Hill cemetery from the little cottage on dusty, unpaved Feland avenue in Grandview, near the Frisco railroad tracks.

It was in Grandview the President spent 12 days away from the world's highest office in May because his mother had a sinking spell; there he was bound Saturday when word of her heart's failure overtook him in the presidential plane.

Will Join Husband

Forest Hill cemetery made ready grave 8 in block 43, lot 85. In the same lot rests John Anderson Truman, the President's father. The location is the top of a rolling hill, under maples, elms and oaks. John Truman was buried there Nov. 4, 1914.

The Truman sorrow, though more than a family affair, was sheltered from the curious by secret service men, state and local police who blockaded roads for two blocks around the frame house.

On the door of the cream-colored frame house was a funeral wreath of purple and white. Inside, at the foot of a simple, silvery casket, was a single great cluster of red roses. In the open casket, where close friends said their goodbyes yesterday, lay Martha Truman in her favorite blue dress—a dress she bought last February to wear on a visit to Harry in the White House.

That trip was never made, because of a fall on Feb. 13 fractured her hip and led to the heart strain which brought about her death. On an earlier visit—for Mother's day, 1945—she had captured the nation's fancy by exclaiming "fiddlesticks!" at the fuss made about her.

Asks Question

She asked her newly-sworn-in son, "Harry, if you are President, why can't you shoo all these people away?"

The President, meeting an old friend on her doorstep last night, said he was "tired." He hadn't made the energetic 6 a. m. walk that is usual when he stays at the summer White House in Independence, 25-miles away, now occupied by the presidential family.

Grandview held an official "day of mourning." The community of

SUGAR RATIONING ENDS COMPLETELY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 28—The agriculture department announced the end of sugar rationing at 11 a. m. today because of a lack of funds to finance the program.

The action ends rationing to industrial and institutional users. Rationing to housewives was ended two months ago.

However, price controls are being kept and controls on the amount of supplies which industrial users may have on hand were instituted.

In announcing this action, the department said congress failed to appropriate funds necessary to continue work of the sugar rationing administration.

It said that offices is being closed down immediately and all rationing employes are being dismissed today.

The department said all orders suspending sugar rationing to alleged violators of rationing rules are revoked. Likewise, all suspen-

ARMS MERGER WORK BEGINS

Forrestal Tackles Job of Welding Army, Navy, Air into Single Unit.

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, July 28 — James V. Forrestal, the nation's first secretary of defense, today began his historic job of welding the Army, Navy and Air Forces into a single military establishment under the new armed forces unification law.

The statue left behind by congress provided only the blueprint for the new defense structure, but both Army and Navy officers were confident the former Navy secretary's dynamic personality would provide the leadership needed to make it a successful reality.

All three services were carrying on as usual while Forrestal began preparations for the sweeping reorganization. A Navy spokesman said no date had yet been set for his formal oath taking ceremony.

The senate confirmed him for the cabinet post without dissent before it adjourned yesterday. Most foes of unification regarded his appointment as an assurance that the Navy would be guaranteed its proper role and not be "taken over" by the Army.

The law sets up the Army, Navy and Air Forces as co-equal departments under Forrestal. Each department will have its own secretary but only Forrestal will have cabinet status.

President Truman's first executive order called upon the armed forces to "formulate plans and make coordinated preparations." Otherwise it did little except define the responsibilities of the three services.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, issued orders to all commanders to continue "business as usual" until official orders are issued carrying the unification into effect. His order went to all air forces as well as ground force commanders.

Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, Marine corps commander, called on every officer to "carry out not only the letter but the spirit of unification." He had consistently fought against the legislation before congress.

The Army Air Forces looked forward to Air Force day, Aug. 26, with the autonomy they have long sought near realization. But Gen. Carl Spaatz, AAF chief, called on all field commanders in a message to "weld together" the three services.

Hon. E. H. Sullivan, acting secretary of Navy, is expected to get the post of secretary of navy. W. Stuart Symington, assistant secretary of war for air, is probably be named secretary of air.

Kenneth C. Royal, secretary of war, is expected to be the next secretary for the Army.

Hughes Says Inquiry Chairman Got Free Air Transportation

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, July 28—Howard Hughes, in a signed article appearing in the Los Angeles Examiner today and copyrighted by the newspaper, made public a statement regarding a senate committee investigation of government plane contracts awarded him and Henry J. Kaiser.

The Hughes article was in the form of an open letter addressed to Sen. Owen Brewster (R-Me.), chairman of the senate war investigating committee.

It follows:

"Dear Senator Brewster:

"While you are telling, why don't you tell all?

"Why don't you tell about the time you invited me to lunch in your suite at the Mayflower hotel and the proposition you put to me?

"How About Trip"

"Why don't you tell about the flight Juan Trippe made to the coast to see me, and the two-day conference we had. (April 12 and 13, 1947). Why don't you tell what we were talking about?

(Note: Juan Trippe is president of Pan America Airways system).

"You know, Senator, if you hadn't gone too far overboard, I might have been willing to take a certain shellacking in this publicity spree of yours," said Hughes in one part of his letter.

"Yes, I might have been willing to sit back and take a certain amount of abuse simply because I am only a private citizen while you are a senator with all sorts of rights and powers to subpoena me, make me drop my work, and travel 2,500 miles back there to Washington and otherwise cause me no end of inconveniece.

"Let You Do Talking"

"So I sat back and let you do the talking for five days. But one thing you said, which just appeared in the papers, sort of stuck in my mind.

"You said that I asked you to send someone out here to check through my books. Now, you know, that statement is true. I did make that request because I have nothing to hide and I have done nothing I am ashamed of.

"I am sorry if certain men are embarrassed because they have been entertained by me. But if they are embarrassed, that's because they are in politics, and politics is a strange game.

"However, I am not a politician, I am just an ordinary citizen. I entertain whomever I please. There is no law against it.

"I worked pretty hard for what money I have, and I didn't make it from the government—and I didn't make it from airplanes.

"All in all, in my transactions with the government I have made no profit whatsoever.

"Furthermore, I and my companies have paid taxes to the government totaling $25,000,000. And I have paid salaries to employees totaling $300,000,000.

"As far as the airplane business is concerned, I have been in it 13 years and this is the re-

"Hughes' Own Idea," Brewster Says of "Free Ride" Charge

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 28—Senator Brewster (R-Maine) said today he had accepted free air transportation furnished by Howard Hughes only because the Hollywood millionaire asked for an immediate conference with him on an investigation of a wartime plane contract.

Hughes had charged in an open letter to Brewster earlier that the chairman of the senate war investigating committee had been flown about the country by him at a cost of $1,400.

Shown a copy of the letter just before the committee opened hearings on Hughes' contract for construction of a huge flying boat, Brewster told reporters it was true that he had ridden free in Hughes' planes.

Brewster's version was as follows:

He was in Kansas City on a Sunday morning after making a Lincoln day address early this year when Hughes called him from Washington and asked for an immediate conference about the committee's investigation work. Brewster was not certain of the date, but thought it was Feb. 13.

Speeches Stand in Way

Brewster told Hughes that he had two speeches to deliver, one in Morgantown, W. Va., and another in Columbus, O., before returning to Washington and could not reach Washington until Wednesday.

"Hughes said I will fly you, if you will come back to Washington, Brewster said. "So I bought a ticket on TWA (Hughes' airline) and came back to Washington.

"We had a committee meeting at which we examined Hughes about the contracts."

Then, the Maine senator said, Hughes offered to have Brewster flown to Morgantown, W. Va., for the speech there that night in the "executive plane" of Jack Frye, then head of TWA.

Frye's plane brought him back to Washington, Brewster said, and the next day Hughes personally flew Brewster and Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) to Columbus for a speech there that night. Hughes returned immediately to Washington and had Frye's plane pick up Brewster for the return trip after the speech.

Calls Hughes Extravagant

"That reveals some of Mr. Hughes' methods," the Maine senator said. "He could have waited in Columbus for the short time

Six Injured In Building Crash

Cincinnati Legion Picnic Ends in Near Tragedy as Dance Hall Collapses.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 28 — An American Legion post outing ended in near tragedy last night for some 200 persons when lightning struck a tree and sent it crashing through the roof and floor of a crowded dance pavilion.

Six persons, all Cincinnatians, were injured and physicians at Good Samaritan hospital said two of these, a mother and son, were detained overnight.

Nine-year-old Robert Donatillio received a fracture of the right leg when he was pinned under falling timbers, and his mother, Mrs. Rose Donatillo, 34, suffered rib fractures and cuts on the face and head.

A dance was in progress at the pavilion but was halted when a sudden thunderstorm broke and rain began blowing into the structure.

The crowd jammed into one section of the building to keep dry and a few minutes later the tree, nearly five-feet in diameter, fell through the roof at the opposite end.

Walter Julien, dispatcher for the Hamiltoin county police, said the injured were standing at the outer edge of the crowd.

Joseph F. Pflaum Jr., 18, who received cuts on both legs, told newsmen the crowd stampeded out of the pavilion like a heavy downpour of rain as the tree came its way through the roof.

The picnic site, known as Gustwaller's grove, is located in a remote, western section of the county. Telephones in the area were knocked out by the storm and for a time police were unable to complete the count of the injured.

Boy's Skull Fractured In Fall from Tractor

MT. GILEAD, July 28—Jacob Belt, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Belt of north of Mt. Gilead, suffered basal skull fracture in a fall from a tractor Saturday. The father and son had just turned off state route 61 a mile north of here with a vehicle when the accident happened. The boy's head apparently struck the tractor when he fell. He was taken to Mansfield in the Craven ambulance to General hospital where his condition was listed as serious.

Three in Bucyrus Family Saved As Boat Overturns in Lake Erie

Rescue of three members of a Bucyrus family from the waters of Lake Erie was the one happy note in a report of drowning tragedies which claimed at least seven lives in Ohio yesterday.

The three, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Himler and their 11-year-old son, John, were rescued after clinging to their overturned motorboat for 45 minutes, near Port Clinton.

The Coast Guard said the three were fishing from their 13-foot aluminum boat, and that during a change in seats the craft upset.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"
DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.
Although they may seem a mild ailment, especially when not giving any pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area
Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.
Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties. Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free

Capital Is Just Like Old Times To Former Filmland Newsman

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 28—When I left Hollywood I thought I was all through writing pieces about blondes admiring the moon through the portholes of Errol Flynn's yacht. And about beauteous [illegible] studying Shakespeare[illegible] latest interest of Charlie Chap[illegible].

Now I'm [illegible] brunettes with curves more [illegible] than that of the [illegible] 600-passenger air[illegible] of Howard Hughes, skim[illegible] through the water (the lovelies, not the plane) in flesh-colored bathing suits for the edification of government bigwigs.

Only difference in today's story about the senate's inquiry into the $30,000,000 plus that Hughes got from the government to build airplanes and the trials I used to cover is that the scene is Washington instead of Hollywood. Even so a fellow has to look sharp to realize he's in the senate caucus room and not in Los Angeles' skyscraper courthouse.

$125 for Dates

There's the sworn evidence of champagne parties on a mansion on Doheny drive in the hills high above Hollywood, the $125 fees to gals for going to dinner with hot-shots, the tete-a-tetes in plush-lined restaurants.

One of these is Romanoff's in Beverly Hills, operated by the phoney Russian nobleman, Prince Mike (nee Harry Ferguson) Romanoff. And many an item I had to write about the mustachioed Mike. One member of the cast of characters, even, I remember from the trial of Errol Flynn: his old pal, Johnny Meyer.

When I knew Johnny he was a portly young man with thinning hair, who had his desk in the Warner brothers publicity department. Johnny knew everybody in Hollywood. He never seemed to function as a press agent, except on studio junkets for movie premieres. That was when Johnny shined. He herded the accompanying starlets. Saw that they had their pictures taken with the dignitaries. Stuff like that.

Witness for Flynn

Johnny was a character witness for Flynn at the latter's trial on charges of monkey-business with an 18-year-old girl aboard his boat. (Flynn was acquitted.) After I left Hollywood for what I thought would be a more dignified job in Washington, Johnny moved over to Howard Hughes' movie company in a similar capacity.

Now it turns out that Johnny came here a while back to give secret testimony to the senate war investigating committee about the entertainments he provided for such people as Elliott Roosevelt; Faye Emerson, the Warner brothers' actress who became Elliott's wife; Gov. Mon Wallgren of Washington, and Cap Krug, the secretary of the interior.

Expense Account Mushrooms

Having turned his fabulous expense accounts over to Senators Owen Brewster, Homer Ferguson and Co., Johnny found urgent business about as far elsewhere as he could get. He reportedly went to South America and last was in Patagonia, the southernmost tip of the continent, where he presumably is wearing a fur cap against the July blizzards. Another report had him in Montreal.

So Krug claims he never ate $100 dinners with Johnny; that the latter is a master of the swindle-sheet. Gov. Wallgren laughs off the parties. Young Roosevelt hasn't said anything yet. Hughes, the man who discovered Jean Harlow (and whose previous press agent, Linc Quarberg, christened her the platinum blonde) says he has a right to entertain his friends.

And that brings us to Miss Peggy Cook, whose bathing suit portraits lately have been sizzling the newspapers. I seem to have met her somewhere in my devious past, but I can't quite place her. By the time the senators have learned how come the government handed the million to Hughes, I imagine my memory will have been well refreshed.

Hold everything, Hollywood. Roll 'em, Senators. Here we go again.

HE MADE GOOD. After eluding authorities for more than a year, Italian Prisoner of War Guiseppe Lo Piccolo (above) is captured in New York City. Since his escape from Camp Shanks, N. J., the 25-year-old ex-soldier accumulated a social security number, a plasterers' union card, a job, an apartment, a wife and son. He also has a wife and child in Sicily.

COLUMBUS BOY KILLED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 28 — Thomas Stravoff, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dimitri Stravoff, was killed yesterday when he tumbled out of his parents' automobile into the path of two oncoming cars. Police said the boy apparently leaned against the door handle, accidentally opening the door. Mrs. Stravoff, who leaped from the moving car in a desperate attempt to save the child, was dragged about 200 feet and suffered bruises.

Firms Rush To Boost Steel

Smaller Firms Reported Not Waiting for Kingpin To Set Pace.

CLEVELAND, July 28 — The magazine Steel noted today that independent producers are not waiting for the United States Steel Corp., to act, and predicted that the general advance in steel prices would not be long delayed.

The price boost, expected to be announced in mid-August is likely to range from $2, to $7 a ton with the overall increase averaging between $3 and $5 per ton, according to Steel.

Several smaller independents have already hiked prices, two raising the price on galvanized sheets $10 and $7 per ton, and another advancing the price of buttweld pipe $8 per ton, on direct shipment business, the trade journal said.

Raw materials were in the spotlight last week with scrap prices soaring as much as $5.50 per ton, pig iron rising $3 to $3.50 per ton, and byproduct coke going up $1.40 per ton at Chicago.

Brokers caught short of mill commitments are responsible for most the feverish activity in steel, the review opined. Though the situation in scrap is confusing, it added, $38 to $39 appears to be the representative price on steel mills grades at Pittsburgh.

The supply and demand equation is still out of balance, according to steel, with supply tight and the pressure of demand coming from all consumers. Fourth quarter allotments will be smaller as producers catch up on carryover orders from the third quarter, according to the magazine.

However, "steelmaking operations continued to rise for the third consecutive week as the industry prepared for a high rate of operations over the balance of the year," Steel said. Last week's advance of 2½ points to 95 per cent of ingot capacity lifted the rate to within two points of the postwar high.

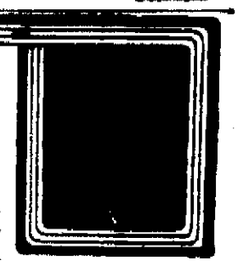
For Funeral Service Away From Home..



Having been denied the privilege of travel during the war years, the American public is satisfying its wanderlust. At times this brings the need for funeral service at some point far from home.

It is well for families living in Marion and vicinity to know that the Hughes Funeral Home can serve them anywhere. The best plan is to call us before taking other complicating steps. It will save much needless expense.

We have handled such matters many times and know just how to proceed — also how to protect the interests of our patrons.

Experience is the Best Teacher!

Remember all the different brands you smoked during the wartime cigarette shortage? That's when so many people discovered the milder, more flavorful pleasure there is in Camel's choice, properly aged tobaccos.

It was no fun!
But that wartime cigarette scarcity was a revealing experience to smokers . . . taught millions that cigarettes of different brands are not alike . . . that there are big differences in taste, coolness, mildness . . . in quality.

What Brand?
In these days of the wartime shortage, you took whatever brand you could get . . . a different brand every day sometimes. Naturally, people compared brands . . . for taste . . . for throat . . . for real smoking pleasure.

Choice of Experience
Even people who had never thought of changing brands tried Camels during the shortage. That's how more and more smokers learned that Camels suited them best. That's why . . .

MORE PEOPLE ARE SMOKING CAMELS than ever before!

YOUR "T-ZONE" WILL TELL YOU...

MR. AND MRS. JOHN ROBERTS entertained with a buffet supper Saturday evening at their home at 351 East Church street for the pleasure of Miss Carolyn King and H. Bloss Vail of Chicago whose wedding will be an event of next Saturday. Guests were close friends of Miss King and her fiance, and from out of town was Mrs. James Ashworth of Minneapolis, Minn.

Mrs. Ashworth, who is the former Miss Patricia Dodd of Marion, will be Miss King's matron of honor and she has asked Mrs. James C. Woods Jr., Mrs. David Pollak and Miss Ann Mapes of Marion, and Miss Dorothy Evans of Chicago, a former roommate at Duke university to be bridesmaids. Misses Carolyn and Janice Isaly, nieces of the bride-elect will be flower girls.

Roger Sherman Vail Jr. of Glenview, Ill., will be his brother's best man and ushers will be F. Connar Creigh of Deerfield, Kan., Frederick Jaicks of Hinsdale, Ill., Malcolm D. Vail Jr., of Glencoe Ill., cousin of Mr. Vail and David Pollack of Marion.

Miss King, who is being complimented with a number of pre-nuptial parties, was an honor guest when Miss Ann Schaffner and Miss Sally Dee of Bellefontaine entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Schaffner on South Vine street. Sweet peas fashioned the centerpiece for the tea table and bouquets of white daisies were used in the living room and sunroom. Miss King was presented a gift by the hostesses.

Mrs. Ruth Wethro was hostess when the F.C.C. club met Thursday afternoon at Lincoln park. A potluck lunch was served at noon. Door prize went to Mrs. Mona George and the mystery award to Mrs. Eileen Alexander. Contest awards were won by Mrs. Betty Whittington, Mrs. George, Mrs. Virginia Mayse, Mrs. Mary Gilmore, Mrs. Nora Beery, Mrs. Alberta Brothers, Mrs. Mary Rothenhausler and Mrs. Alexander. Special awards were presented to Mrs. Whittington and Mrs. Brothers. Mrs. Lillian Montroy will be hostess at the next meeting held at the park.

Mrs. Anna Hess of 376 Park boulevard was hostess when the D'accord Cootiette club met Thursday. A potluck supper was served on the lawn and later euchre was played. Awards were won by Mrs. Delsia Baker and Mrs. Nell McIntyre. Mrs. Bessie Loyer Burke and Mrs. Dorothy Williams were consoled. Miss Bernice Farrell was a guest.

Miss Mary Margaret Miller of Davids street entertained Thursday evening for the pleasure of Miss Bette Ruby, a bride-elect of Aug. 7. Blue and white, Miss Ruby's wedding colors were carried out in the appointments. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. T. G. Miller. Guests included Miss Ruby, who is the fiancee of Russell Bray, Mrs. Robert Stigner, Mrs. Thomas Solomon, Mrs. Laura Rowlinson, Miss Donna Cook, Miss Iola Freese and Miss Dorothy Loreno.

AUTHOR VISITS OHIO

By The United Press

CHILLICOTHE, July 28—Russell Janney, author of the best-selling "Miracle of the Bells" was here today, visiting his 94-year-old mother, who broke her hip in a fall. Janney flew from New York to the Columbus airport Saturday where he was met by his two sisters who drove him here.

Railroads burn about one-fourth of all Diesel fuel consumed in the United States.

Galion Couple Wed in Garden Of Bride's Home

GALION, July 28—The charm of the colonial south was reflected in the setting and appointments of the home wedding, Saturday afternoon, of Miss Virginia Elizabeth Boyd only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Boyd of South State Road, and granddaughter of the late D. C. Boyd, industrialist and founder of the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Co., and Ralph H. Stevens, son of Mrs. C. S. Stevens of Columbus, and the late Mr. Stevens.

From the trellised doorway banked with huckleberry and coral gladiolus, on the east side of the home, the bridal party proceeded down the white-carpeted pathway to the far side of the east formal garden where the nuptials took place before an archway alter of huckleberry flanked on either side by two large baskets of white gladiolus. Additional vases and baskets containing vari-colored gladiolus in keeping with flowers growing in the garden were used at either corner to complete the altar arrangement.

White satin ribbon was looped to ivy-entwined wood standards along both sides of the pathway to form the aisle. Each standard was decorated with clusters of gladiolus and asters held in place with white satin bows. The guests were seated on either side of the aisle, and only the families were in the formal garden. Rev. Norman R. Somerville, pastor of First Methodist church read the single ring service at 4:30 o'clock.

Misty starched chiffon was used in the summertime gown of the bride. It was fashioned with a yoke cut wide over the shoulders with a high round neckline. A wide ruffle trimmed the yoke, and tiny ruffles edged the long tight sleeves. Numerous tiny satin buttons closed the tight bodice at the back. The skirt, in a redingote, opened in front and revealed numerous wide ruffles from the hem to the hipline. Another wide ruffle edged the skirt which extended into a long wide train. A Queen's Crown of Chantilly lace held the fingertip-length veil of filmy French import. Her jewelry was twin gold bracelets, gift of the bridegroom. Each was inset with a cameo which he brought back from the Isle of Capri, and a cluster of pearls was set around each cameo. The Colonial-style bridal bouquet was centered with a white Folcanna orchid surrounded by gardenias and Sno-white roses, backed by white maline to correspond with the airy effect of the gown.

The bride was escorted by her father who gave her in marriage and was preceded down the pathway by her matron of honor, Mrs. E. Paul Monroe Jr., of Galion, and bridesmaid, Mrs. Hilton H. Campbell of Dallas, Tex., sister of the bridegroom. Gowns of the attendants in pastel yellow, were styled alike of misty starched marquisette. They wore large garden hats in sheer hairbraid to match the gowns. They carried garden Mexican woven baskets of assorted garden flowers.

Little Linda Ann Boyd of Galion, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a summer sky blue gown like those worn by the attendants.

Edward E. Stevens of Mansfield was his brother's best man, and the ushers were John C. Boyd of Galion and David C. Stewart of Cleveland Heights, brother and cousin, respectively, of the bride.

From the library of the home, preceding and following the ceremony, came a recital of organ music by Prof. Donald Amsden of Greenwich.

The couple received their guests in the formal garden before going in to the home for the reception hour.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Boyd was attired in a rose-colored gown, while Mrs. Stevens, mother of the bridegroom, wore brown. White Folcanna orchids were worn by both mother's.

When the couple left for a wedding trip the bride was smartly attired in an aqua suit with gold cobra accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from the center of her bridal bouquet.

Recently the bride resigned her position in Crawford county as supervisor of Aid to Dependent Children and Aid to the Needy Blind. She was graduated from Stephens College, Columbia, Mo. and from Ohio Wesleyan university where she affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Mr. Stevens who is southern sales representative for Central Ohio Steel Products Co. of Galion, attended the University of Pittsburgh. With the United States Army Air Corps during the war, he saw service for three and one-half years in Africa, Italy and France. He holds the distinguished flying cross, the air medal and seven clusters, and the Presidential citation and two clusters for his outstanding service which included 99 bombing missions.

Hit by Lightning; Ohioan Lives To Tell Experience

By The Associated Press

LANCASTER, O., July 28—Roy Huffman, 54, was alive today, able to describe what it felt like to be struck by lightning.

Treated for his injuries at a hospital here, Huffman said he was standing at the door of his cottage on Buckeye Lake, 16 miles northwest of Lancaster, when a bolt struck the front porch late Sunday.

"A green flame enveloped me," he said. "It felt as if thousands of red hot needles—and I really mean hot—were sticking me."

The lightning ripped the shoes on his feet to shreds, singed his legs and tore his trousers.

X-rays disclosed his worst injuries were three broken toes.

Grange Schedules 9 Meetings This Week

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 28—The Ohio State Grange announced nine more special state meetings would be held during the next two weeks to award the grange's sixth degree.

The meetings are preparatory to the national Grange convention to be held in Columbus in November. At meetings last week in various parts of Ohio the sixth degree was conferred on approximately 5,000 members, Joseph W. Fichter, master of the State Grange, said.

Meetings scheduled this week: McConnellsville, Monday; St. Clairsville, Tuesday; Coshocton, Wednesday; Alliance, Thursday; Wooster, Friday, and Mansfield, Saturday afternoon and evening.

There will be three meetings the following week: Sandusky, Aug. 4; Ashtabula, Aug. 5, and Leavittsburg, Aug. 6.

Nevada Gravestone Mystery Is Solved

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, July 28—The mystery at the Nevada cemetery ended Friday.

Several days ago the caretaker reported to Sheriff B. H. Stansberry of Upper Sandusky that two 300-pound tombstones had apparently been stolen. At least they had been removed.

They were those of the late Dr. H. B. Wideman and his widow, who lives in Cleveland.

But it has been discovered that members of the family had taken the stones to Toledo for additional engraving.

MAKE MEETING PLANS

GALION—Women of the [illegible] at a recent meeting completed plans for attending the international meeting in Columbus from Aug. 17 to 22. Mrs. Nova Marsh will serve as a member of the national hospitality committee, and Mrs. Calvin Teeters is one of two candidates for the Dean of the Academy of Friendship.

Site Where Lincoln, Douglas Set Debate Deeded To Illinois

By The Associated Press

[illegible] Ill., July 28—The [illegible]use in which Abra- [illegible] and Stephen A. [illegible]ed their famous de- [illegible] turned over to the [illegible] tomorrow, the 89th [illegible] their meeting.

[illegible]ment of public works [illegible] will maintain the [illegible] as a public shrine. [illegible]n to the state by Mrs. [illegible]e and her son, Bry- [illegible] Mrs. Sprague is a [illegible]er of the late Francis [illegible]wner of the house when Lincoln and Douglas met there as his guests.

Since 1925, the Sprague have maintained the house as a public museum. The 1947 state legislature accepted their offer to transfer title to the state and agreed to give the building perpetual care.

The famed debates grew out of a chance meeting between Lincoln and Douglas on a Bement street in 1858. On the afternoon they met, Douglas was riding with Bryant when they met Lincoln, who suggested they get together soon for a talk about the debates, and Bryant suggested the two use his home that night as a meeting place. Both were candidates for the U. S. senate.

The Spragues said furnishings in the living room of the cottage are the same as the ones used at the time of the conference. The chair in which Lincoln sat is draped with crepe and the American flag, and several years ago it was encased in glass.

FOUR BOND VOTES SET

G-Gals Trade Pay Checks for Wedding Rings

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, July 28—Leaves from a Capitol notebook:

Budget trimming is reducing the number of "G-Gals"—government girl employes—in Washington.

It is estimated that only 95,000 of the 215,000 federal workers here are women.

Some of the girl victims of the economy ax have departed for the old home town tearful and depressed, but others are blessing their dismissal notices.

Hal Boyle

The reason: many boy friends content to court a government girl indefinitely as long as she was on the payroll, are now coming through with wedding rings.

And most girls, here as elsewhere, are ready and willing to trade their posts with Uncle Sam for a trip to the altar.

Civil War "News"

Most important public documents an messages are now released to the press and radio several hours in advance of their actual publication.

But the library of congress, after retaining the secret Abraham Lincoln papers for 38 years, released them at a spot news conference, forcing reporters to scramble for telephones just as if Lincoln were still alive and had issued a dramatic announcement.

"I never thought," said one dated newsman, "that I'd ever be phoning bulletins on the Civil war."

That's Washington.

Cake from Coolidge

Calvin Coolidge practiced law in Northampton, Mass., after leaving the presidency. Al Singleton, a reporter at the Capitol now for The Associated Press, recalls that each year a New York chef used to send a birthday cake to Coolidge.

The former president would call in Northampton friends to help eat it. On one occasion he noticed Singleton wrapping up his portion.

"What are you doing with that cake?" Coolidge demanded.

"Taking it home to my mother."

Coolidge hesitated, then turned to his wife and said:

"Cut him a big slice, Grace."

Will Rogers Still Laughing

The Capitol's corridors and rotunda hold dozens of bronze and marble statutes of American statesmen and public figures. Their posture is stiff, their expressions more lofty than they probably were in normal life.

Some of their names, once well known, have become obscured in the long wash of history.

The statute that many visitors like most is the one with the wide grin, the man who often poked good-natured fun at congress—Will Rogers. And he's still laughing at the antics that go on there.

Not Man, Just Yo-Yo

The elevator operators at the Capitol see little more of the world than a sailor in a submarine, but they have plenty of time to brood over the world's troubles.

"How's business?" a passenger pleasantly asked one of these up and down philosophers. The operator looked at him moodily.

"I'm not a man," he said despondently, "I'm a yo-yo."

DRIVER PLEADS GUILTY TO INTOXICATION CHARGE

Fine of $100 Assessed After Car Figures in Collision.

Charles M. Phillips, 21, of 505 Uncapher avenue pleaded guilty in municipal court Saturday when charged with driving while intoxicated and was fined $100 and costs and had his driving rights suspended for three years.

He was arrested by city police at 10 p. m. Friday after figuring in a three-car collision at Fairground street and Ballentine avenue.

Phillips' car and one driven by Charles M. Phillips, Charles H. Knowlton, 34, of 283 South Prospect street were both headed east on Fairground street when the latter stopped at Ballentine avenue, police said. Phillips was unable to stop his car in time to avoid a collision. The third car, parked at 311 East Fairground street, was struck by the Knowlton car after the collision. The owner's name was not known. The parked car was not damaged, police said, but considerable damage resulted to the front of the Phillips' car and to the rear of the other automobile.

Mother Truman

THE nation's sympathy belongs to President Truman, a devoted son mourning the death of a beloved mother.

In the time since Mr. Truman became chief executive, the relationship between him and his aged mother had been admired by all who think of the White House family as a national symbol and resent imperfections in it.

Martha Truman's place in the family was that of the loved and respected mother whose opinion and satisfaction are the first thought of her children. There are many families like that in America; the Truman family was like that. It was a circumstance that helped greatly to make Harry Truman understandable to his countrymen when he desperately needed to be understood.

Martha Truman had a full life, a good life, a life that many mothers could envy. She lived to see her son in the White House, the ambition of millions of American mothers. Plow a straight furrow . behave yourself," she is reported to have said soon after Mr. Truman took the presidential oath. The nation could understand that. It could understand Mother Truman. Its sympathy goes to her son in his bereavement.

Secretary Forrestal

APPOINTMENT of James V. Forrestal as secretary of defense is a wise move. As a Navy enlisted man and aviator in World War I, a reservist between wars and wartime secretary of the navy, Forrestal has the necessary background for this vitally important post. His Navy record should help allay the fears of naval officers who have steadfastly opposed unification.

It isn't an easy assignment the new secretary undertakes. There will be problems at every turning, precedents to be broken, policies to be established. While the services are theoretically unified, actually there probably will be inter-service bickering as never before with the air corps a new entity to complicate matters. Forrestal will need every bit of his tact, his military and naval knowledge and his authority as a cabinet member to get the new national defense establishment operating on an even keel.

Liberia's Centenary

LIBERIA, which this week begins celebrating its centenary, is a republic which receives very little publicity. If a man on a radio quiz program were to ask its capital, chances are his quarry wouldn't be able to answer "Monrovia."

Established as an independent nation when England began to get fidgets about American colonial designs in Africa, Liberia is often dismissed as a backward country lacking modern conveniences. That's true. Progress hasn't been rapid and the population isn't known, estimates ranging from 1,300,000 to 2,500,000. There are about 20,000 civilized Liberians, the remainder being tribesmen in the interior.

Cut civilization is gradually making itself felt through Liberia. The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. employs more than 20,000 tribesmen on plantations, roads are going into the interior and civilized Liberians are increasing.

Patterned after the United States, even to its flag and coinage, Liberia has survived a century without mishap. In its second century, as the world's backward and underprivileged become aware of the rights and better life available to those who seek them, Liberia has a rare opportunity to bring democracy's light to the dark continent.

The Lincoln Papers

APPARENTLY the newly-revealed Lincoln papers will disclose nothing of a sensational nature about the nation's 16th president, concerning whom volume upon volume has been written. But they will throw new light on his daily life, and the written emendations to documents will show scholars the workings of his mind.

No man in our history has about his memory such a collection of legend and fact. Where one begins and the other ends always will be open to dispute. His wisdom, his compassion, his wit, the great drama in which he played the leading role, the unhappiness of his personal life, his tragic death—all have combined to make Lincoln one of democracy's great heroes, albeit an enigmatic one.

The words of Disraeli's memorial address before commons in 1865 perhaps sum up Lincoln's lasting appeal: "In the character of Lincoln, and even in the accessories of his last moments, there is something so homely and so innocent that it takes the question, as it were, out of all the pomp of history and the ceremonial of diplomacy—it touches the heart of nations and appeals to the domestic sentiment of mankind."

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Further Explanation of Program Requested.

WASHINGTON, July 28—Mr. Truman's midyear economic report did not get any play, because about all it said was: "Everyone should watch everything." His theme was this nation is doing better than fine, but only temporarily. He foresaw a downward readjustment — "stabilizing" he called it—when shortages evaporate. For this future period he had a program idea, which deserved more attention. His idea was for everyone to increase productivity.

The only legislation he wanted does not really concern this general situation. As usual he wanted a 65 cent minimum wage, his own housing bill, and increase of social security payments. The minimum wage does not apply to more than a few smaller industries, but the President apparently wants to establish that bottom for the future. Social security payments have not been inflated, but then, neither has the stock market. Together these payments do not bulk as large in a national economy as do the housing and building trade conditions, which is bad and needs correction.

Limited Scope

The recommended legislation, therefore, concerns only a relatively small portion of the general picture which Mr. Truman is talking about.

On the general picture, he wants industry to do the economic job. His program in this respect is undetailed—merely to "increase productivity." He does not go into how much or where, but just wants increased productivity to absorb the wage increase such as John Lewis got in coal. The idea sounds in its major aspects a little like a political program which might gather the votes of producers, consumers and unions into the same administration basket, rather than an economic program to balance economic factors. For instance, this:

Wage increases should be made on a basis of productivity, but should not increase prices or prevent price reductions, he says. Now if this means a man's wages should be increased in this temporary period of shortages, only as much as he can increase his production—that is one thing. But the President does not say this. Indeed, the Lewis coal increase has already increased the price of coal and no one has said anything about a commensurate increase in productivity. If productivity were to be the new administration yardstick doctrine the President would be on sound ground economically. He could really ward off inflation, or rather stop it where it is.

But specifically about the Lewis settlement, what he says is that every effort should be made to absorb the increased coal wage and prevent an increased coal price by "increased productivity." He does not propose to do it. He wants the industry to do it, presumably the operators and miners.

Now the Lewis settlement provides a day less of base work a week, and an hour less a day, and an increase of $1.20 an hour to the miner for this much less work. Now if you can imagine the miner producing more coal while being paid more for working less time, then you may get as happy about the economic situation as the President is. Getting "increased productivity" by this method certainly requires explanation.

The President does not see anything inflationary in this settlement, although the increase in prices, costs and wages in coal and steel from the Lewis settlement is certainly just as big or bigger in its influence on the national economy than the minimum wage, social security and even perhaps housing — all of which would give people more money, although the President will not allow a tax reduction to do the same thing.

Sort of a Squeeze

Mr. Truman tells business it must reduce prices "where profits warrant" and pay wage increases "where profits warrant." This would certainly keep profits down, but all this seems to mean is that any higher profits must go into wage increases. To the farmers, Mr. Truman says the growers, processors and the government owe a duty to keep the public informed about the food supply.

Thus the President really has submitted a new program, a program which requires further explanation.

Just a Minute

By JACK TARVER

This Pastor Has A Burning Conviction

A Milwaukee congregation has accepted the resignation of its pastor, recently sentenced to the state penitentiary for burning down the church.

This seems rather unjust in view of the fact that he was supposed to be a man of the spirit and not of the world. After all, arson isn't even mentioned in any of the 10 commandments.

How was he to know that the only fires he was hired to kindle were in the souls of his congregation?

Still, courts have an old-fashioned idea that new churches should be built with box suppers rather than insurance policies. And so the judge gave him from one to five years, this apparently being the ministerial rate.

Before too long, what with time off for good behavior, he'll again be available for pulpit duty. And what sermons he should be able to deliver on such topics as "The Wages of Incendiarism!"

Meanwhile, there's this to be said on his behalf: at least he didn't do it on Sunday.

Reviewing the Record

By MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, July 28 — Appraisals of the session of congress now at an end will consist largely of asking and answering a question: With the Republicans in control of congress, while the President was a Democrat, what was the Republican congress able to accomplish?

Out of 80 biennial congresses in the country's history, this is the 28th in which such division has existed, one party in the presidency but not in control of congress. Always the condition is looked upon with apprehension, it was so last January when this congress began. Frequently the apprehension has been justified. For the condition usually leads to sharpening of differences between the two parties and this results in frustration, either of congress by the president or vice versa.

Frustration took place the last time this condition existed, on that occasion in a special form. When President Hoover took office in 1929 he had a Republican congress. But after the mid-term congressional elections, the Democrats had control of the house during the last two years of Mr. Hoover's term. This was in the very depths of the depression, when emergency legislation was needed, and when therefore cooperation between president and congress was especially desirable.

Sharp Differences

But it was a time that sharpened political differences. Mr. Hoover, serving a first term, was expected to be and during the latter part of the period became a candidate for reelection. The political spirit that arose was expressed in a wisecrack current at the time. It was attributed to a Democratic leader of the house, but may have been, as often, merely an anonymous invention, for plausibility's sake attributed to an appropriate source: "We will do just enough to save the country but short of enough to save Hoover and the Republican party."

From rancor of such intensity the relation between President Truman and the Republicans in congress has been utterly free. When Mr. Truman last week made a sentimental journey back to his former seat in the senate, and was there spontaneously welcomed, the incident, including Mr. Truman's brief address, was at once unprecedented in the history of congress, and a conspicuous evidence of mutual good feeling.

Evidence of Division

But good feeling does not prevent fundamental cleavage. Of this there is a unique record in the history of one measure before this congress. This measure was voted for seven times, four in the house, three in the senate. On all seven roll calls the vote in favor of the measure was either above two-thirds or approaching two-thirds. But that measure did not not become law.

The reference is to the tax bill, the course of which is probably unparalleled in the history of congress. First, it was passed by both branches, then vetoed by the President. Thereupon the house voted almost but not quite the two-thirds necessary to override a veto. Subsequently the same bill, changed only as to the date of taking effect, was again introduced, again passed by both branches and again vetoed. Once more, both branches voted on the measure, the house giving the two-thirds to override a veto, but the senate falling slightly short of that number.

Hardly ever, perhaps literally never, was the will of the legislative body and frustration of it by a President so conspicuously illustrated. Another measure, the labor bill, illustrated the same condition—more than two-thirds of congress in favor of it, the President not only vetoing it but striving, vainly as it turned out, to make his veto stick.

Issue for 1948

The labor bill and the tax bill, it is tenable to say, were the principal measures before this congress. Both were expected from the Republican congress when the public elected it last November. In roll call after roll call, in both house and senate, both measures were supported by either more than two-thirds or approximately two-thirds. Both were resisted by the President, in one case successfully.

The bearing of this record on the presidential campaign and election next year is obvious.

By International News Service

AUBURN, Ala.—Seed production, a vigorous new enterprise in Alabama, has grown from a few pounds in 1930 to millions of pounds in 1946. Last year, over 15 million pounds of winter legume seed were harvested, including 12 million pounds of blue lupin seed. Nearly a million pounds of sericea seed and two million pounds of annual lespedeza were saved, according to J. C. Lowery, API extension agronomist.

Seventeen women of Marion city and county shared in awards in the third annual hot weather menu contest sponsored by The Marion Star and Marion merchants.

Mrs. Howard R. Stoll of Mt. Vernon avenue came within one stroke of tying the Marion Country club record for women, set by her several years previous, when she turned in a card of 92. Her score of 91, which she had equalled several times, held the record.

Clifford A. Owens, 54, president of a group of seven Marion industrial concerns, died of uremic poisoning in the City hospital.

John Wagner, 20, of North Grand avenue miraculously escaped death when a Baltimore & Ohio pasesnger train crashed into the truck he was driving at a crossing in Republic, Seneca county.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Clark of Bryant street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, July 28, 1927.

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, famous evangelist, made a public statement in which she questioned the truth of her daughter's story that her strange recent disappearance had been the result of a kidnapping.

The Marion County Chautauqua opened at Garfield park with the Apollo choir as the feature attraction for the first day.

Harry Hoch, inspector and E. B. Haldy, brakeman, Hocking Valley railroad employes on the division which included Marion, were placed on the roll of honor for prompt emergency services which had prevented possible wrecks.

Women of the Marion Country club gave a golf and bridge luncheon in honor of visitors from Findlay. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. James F. Prendergast, chairman, Mrs. Harry Lust, Mrs. T. R. Allen, Mrs. C. B. Russell and Miss Olga Morganthaler.

Mrs. Charlotte Miley, 87, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. F. Shaffstall of Lincoln avenue.

Building a Party

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE Progressive Citizens of America (P.C.A.) is the foundation of Henry Wallace's third party movement. Organized on Dec. 19, 1946, it is a merger of the National Citizens Political Action Committee and the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. Both organizations were part of the New Deal amalgam. Its principal organizers were Henry Wallace, Florello La Guardia, Archibald MacLeish, A. F. Whitney, Frank Kingdon and Jo Davidson.

Harold Ickes, who had been the executive head of the I.C.C.A., commenting on the new organization, wrote:

"... No liberal movement can prosper that, from its very start, will be called upon to defend against the charge of communistic taint. The cornerstone of the organization should have been a stern injunction that no Communist or sympathizer with communism would be admitted to membership . . ."

Henry Wallace's candidacy for the presidency in 1948 in the democratic primaries was announced by Robert W. Kenny, attorney-general of California. The theory of the candidacy is to threaten Harry Truman with active opposition within his own party while at the same time, a third party, dedicated to the defeat of Truman, is being built.

Significant Affiliations

It is interesting to note that Robert W. Kenny is a vice chairman of the P.C.A. He has been affiliated with the following organizations, some of which have been designated as Communist fronts by the Dies committee and by the attorney general of the United States:

Council for Pan American Democracy; Win-the-Peace Conference; Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions; National Citizens Political Action committee; New Masses; National Committee to Win the Peace; Spanish Refugee Appeal; National Committee to Abolish the Poll Tax; Consumers Union; American Committee for Democracy and Intellectual Freedom; American Investors Union; American League for Peace and Democracy; Russian War Relief; Coordinating Committee to Lift the Embargo; Friends of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade; Hollywood Democratic committee; Hollywood League for Democratic Action; International Juridical association; Lawyers Committee on American Relations with Spain; Motion Picture Artists committee; National Lawyers guild; Mobilization for Democracy; California Labor school; American Youth for Democracy; Hollywood Community Radio group; Statewide Legislative conference (Cal.); testimonial dinner for Leo Gallagher; Washington committee to Lift the Spanish Embargo; Hold the Price Line committee; National Wartime Conference of the Professions, etc. etc; California Action Committee for Civil Rights; Citizens Committee for the Defense of Mexican - American Youth; Conference for Democratic Action; Hollywood Anti-Nazi league; Harry Bridges defense; Joint anti-Fascist Refugee committee; League of American Writers; People's Daily World fund drive.

Third Party Possibility

The "Daily Worker" reports the P.C.A. as describing the Democratic party in the following terms:

"It is not clear now whether this party will recover its progressive tradition or surrender to its own brand of ignorance and bigotry. We want to make one thing clear. If the Democratic party woos privilege and betrays the people it will die and deserve to die. We cannot, therefore, rule out the possibility of a new political party, whose fidelity to our goals can be relied upon."

It is not surprising that the P.C.A. has opposed President Truman's foreign policy as has Henry Wallace. Every instance of such opposition has been active support of Soviet Russia's foreign policy. For instance, when the President announced his support of Greece, Howard Fast, as an officer of the P.C.A. issued the following notice:

"We have used the word 'crisis' before but no crisis in the past has measured up to this one. The President's statement on Greece threatens the peace of the world. We must let Washington know that his speech does not express the real feelings of the American people . . ."

Same Crowd

In fact the Wallace meeting at Madison Square Garden was conducted by the P.C.A. It was called the "crisis meeting" and it was claimed that 23,000 persons attended. There was a nationwide radio hook-up on April 10 which, using remote pickups, included Senator Pepper, James Patton, A. F. Whitney, and Robert W. Kenny, P.C.A. vice chairman.

This then is the basis for the third party. It is the foundation organization for Henry Wallace's candidacy for the presidency. It is the same crowd that has been around these parts for many years now supporting every cause and every movement which somehow the Communists support.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Word that Tom Dewey has been adopted by the Sioux Indians was coolly received at Democratic headquarters. They seem willing to let the Indians have him.

• • •

Of course the Sioux couldn't hail Tom as "The Great White Father"... That's reserved for the President. Tom is more the expectant father type.

• • •

But in the future, whenever Sioux Indians gather, the governor will be known as "Brave Heart". Wherever Democrats gather they will have a different name for him.

• • •

Mr. Truman still is available for adoption by some good tribe ...The Tammany tribe has the first refusal.

• • •

But I hear that Tom won't stir out of the house now without a bow and arrow...He's as bad as Wallace and the boomerang.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Missouri Mother

Yours was a great life, Martha Truman,
Missouri mother and pioneer woman!..
From the era of log cabin and covered wagon
To that of atomic energy and jet plane
From the era of quiet fireside and simple living
To that of jive, juke box and complex civilization.

• • •

Lived to see your son come from the clouds...
You had thrilled to the roar of mighty motors...
Caught the flash of silver wings against the sky...
And cried, "My boy!" with your eyes aloft

• • •

Yours had been a full span, Martha...
You were the envy of many mothers ..
You had seen the budding America.
The land in the making and the praying ..
The country of the rugged, simple virtues
The America of the long, hard hours
The America of the horny hands and the wrinkled brows ..
The America of the horse shed beside the country church.
The America of the hard way and the patient mind!

• • •

Your eyes had seen the miracle wrought ..
The incredible picture painted .
The land flowering into a great nation
The son lowly born scaling the heights
Your boy, the President of the United States!

• • •

You had known the toil of farm and kitchen ..
The dependence on rain and sunshine.
The hope placed in a prayer at sunset
The simple reliance on faith and Providence.

• • •

You had lived in the days of Buchanan.
Of Abe Lincoln, Hayes and Garfield..
David Crockett had been dead but seven years
When you first saw the light of day...

• • •

You had borne a son in the days of Cleveland...
"He's a likely looking one"...
They had said, "He will go far."...
"Who knows? May become President, Martha."...

• • •

You had smiled as mothers do...
Nursing him by the glow of kerosene lamp
Marking his first footsteps..
Noting his first mumbled words...
Slaving and sacrificing for him.

• • •

The little red school house...the first job
That first day behind the plow...
"Plow a straight furrow, Harry!"...
These were your words then, and your words
A half century later....

• • •

The job at the drug store and in newspaper office...
The plunge into politics...the first war ..
The returning soldier...the country storekeeper...
Then "Harry Truman, United States Senator."
"Behave yourself, Harry!" you said.

• • •

Then days of growing prestige and honor...
That headline, "Roosevelt and Truman"...
Your son the Vice President...
And then President!

• • •

"Plow a straight furrow, Harry"...
"Behave yourself!"
The humble words of a humble mother
To a son in the White House now!

• • •

Yours had been a great life, Martha...
And you had known the uttermost satisfaction...
That of a son gone far and high...
But never so high you couldn't reach him! ..
And you had known his love and devotion
All through the years and to the end ..
The last hour in the old homestead—
The consolation of consolations...
Peace to your great soul, Missouri mother!

Truth in Advertising

By TRUMAN TWILL

In Knoxville, Tenn., a department store got stuck with a lot of stuff it couldn't sell and startled the community with a "Truth Sale."

The store bought advertising space inviting buyers to look over certain "gruesome" items. The ad confessed some of this stuff "looked pretty good at the time...but apparently did not appeal to you."

Referring to a batch of raincoats that customers had been passing up, the store said: "Avoid that dressed-up look in one of these dreary raincoats." Of some skirts it said: "They are not very well-tailored, but maybe you will outgrow them."

This is full of possibilities. If you have nothing better to do and it's raining, why not kill time wondering—as we've been wondering—how any movie could be so terrible ..

We wouldn't dream of eating this junk ourselves because we know what's in it, but there's no accounting for tastes—so this is your chance to take off our hands at less than half price.

Don't have any illusions about this used car (we don't have any) but if you think you can beat the game and have $300 to throw away on a headache worth $37.50 this may be what you think you want, sucker...

This book reads like something turned out by a 10-year-old child with some nasty complexes to live down, it isn't attractively put together and we found eight typographical errors in 50 pages without looking, but it will help to fill up a book shelf as well as any of the other junk selling for $2.75 a copy...

Here's a garment that shouldn't happen to your worst enemy. It hitches up on the hips, fits the shoulders like a wet bathrobe, is five inches off base around the bottom, is lined with something that looks and feels like a salt sack and would raise eyebrows at a masquerade, but it's dirt cheap...

If you can't get accommodations anywhere else, our place is better than spending the night on the ground. It's a fire-trap, the beds are bad, the plumbing was sub-standard in 1915, the cockroaches have fought us to a standstill and the roof leaks. But maybe it won't rain...

The public finds out these things anyway sooner or later and it might hold fewer grudges if the cards were laid on the table...We know there are better columns than this but maybe you don't happen to have one handy right now.

YOUR HEALTH

Knee Pain

It is not at all uncommon for athletes to come to the physician's office complaining of "a trick knee" or for a patient to say, 'Doctor, my knee goes out of joint"

These people have what is known as an internal derangement of the knee joint, and most often this derangement consists of either a tear in the cartilage between the bones and the joint, or a bit of material loose in the joint.

The symptoms of these two disorders usually consist of pain, locking or catching of the joint, or swelling It may be that only one of these symptoms will show up, but in most instances all three will be present together.

If a patient complains of some trouble with the joint, he should of course have a careful examination He is allowed to walk so that the doctor can observe whether or not there is swelling of the joint or any wasting of the large muscles of the thigh Following this examination, an X-ray of the joint is taken. The X-ray will not necessarily show what disturbance is present, but it is helpful in the diagnosis.

For example a tear of the cartilage and injury to the soft tissue are not often visible in the X-ray On the other hand, if there is calcium or lime deposit or a loose piece of bone, or a break in the bone, it will show in the X-ray plate

According to Dr Mark B Coventry of the Mayo Clinic, the main cause of derangement of the knee joint is a weakness of the large muscle in the thigh known as the quadriceps femoris. A complete cure cannot be brought about unless this muscle is brought back to normal. This often requires a systematic program of exercises.

In the case of a loose body in the joint or a tear in the cartilage, operative treatment is often necessary to bring about a cure. Leaving a loose bit of material in the joint will result in injury to the cartilage, and thus may cause permanent disability.

Whenever trouble with the knee joint occurs, immediate study by an orthopedic specialist would appear advisable. When the cause of the trouble is found, the most suitable type of treatment can be carried out.

Lack of Tail Light Usual Auto Defect

Lack of tail lights was the most prevalent among the defects found on automobiles in the first three weeks of the traffic safety check in the Northwestern district made by the highway patrol, a report from the Findlay office of the highway department showed Of the 8,574 cars examined 1,684 were without a tail light. Headlights were the next most prominent defect with 1,411 the report showed. Other defects were lack of a stop light 1,268, inadequate brakes 583, horn not operating 483; windshield wiper not working 470; unsafe tires 162, absence of rear view mirror 86, poor steering apparatus 79 and all other defects 648.

5 KILLED IN HEAD-ON TRUCK-CAR COLLISION

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Pa., —July 28 Five persons were killed and another was injured critically last night in a head-on collision of a sedan and trailer-truck on U. S. route 40, six miles west of here.

The dead, all residents of R. D. Monongahela, were Mr. and Mrs. Darl Roberts, each 40; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde F. Williams, each 35, and Darl H. Roberts Jr., 19, driver of the automobile. Ruth Roberts, 14, sister of the driver, was in Washington hospital with a fractured leg.

Pvt. Richard A. Shellogg of the state police said the bodies were wedged in the car after being crushed by a tank which broke loose from the trailer Shellogg said it took a half hour to extricate the bodies with acteylene torches.

All but young Roberts died instantly. The youth was pronounced dead at the hospital.

Police arrested William LeRoy Johns, 36, of Barnesville, O., driver of the trailer-truck, on charge of manslaughter pending a coroner's inquest. Johns was placed in Washington county jail without bail.

Johns told police his vehicle went out of his control at the Taylorstown intersection near the "S" bridge. He said he was breaking the truck in a heavy downpour of rain when the trailer portion of the truck swung to the left pulling the vehicle into the path of the Roberts car. A tank rolled on the car, crushing the occupants.

The truck, owned by the Prior Milk Co., Porterville, Pa., was traveling west towards Wheeling, W. Va. The automobile was enroute to Washington.

Police Drag Lake Bed For Missing Heiress

By The Associated Press

HOLDERNESS, N. H., July 28—Searchers for Anne Straw, missing 20-year-old Manchester heiress, called a former navy diver to scour the bottom of Little Squam lake today after grappling irons hooked what appeared to be pieces of women's clothing.

State Police Sergeant Stuart Currier said investigators still were operating on a theory the attractive Smith college senior may have drowned.

They planned to contact one of her boy friends who is working on a forestry survey in Wyoming, however, in an attempt to find out whether he knew of her intentions when she left the luxurious Straw summer home last Monday night.

Miss Straw, adopted daughter of a millionaire Manchester, N. H., banker, disappeared virtually on the eve of her scheduled departure for a month's vacation at a Wyoming dude ranch.

150 Ohioans Pass Bar Examinations in June

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 28—The Ohio supreme court today announced the names of 150 Ohioans who passed the state bar examinations last month

The names of 19 others, the court said, were withheld pending their graduation from law school.

Richard Lowe Hirshberg of Cleveland obtained the highest grade among 190 persons taking the examinations last June 24, 25, and 26—89 per cent new war equipment in the newspapers before they had been approved by some government agency.

"No, it was very unusual," Meigs declared. "We tried to keep every plan we had as secret as possible. There was criticism of him (Kaiser) at the time."

Before he conferred with Kaiser, Meigs said, the Army and Navy had examined his plans and "decided it was completely impossible of accomplishment and impractical."

He said he explained to Kaiser that statistics which the WPB compiled proved that it normally required 52 months, or more than four years, to complete a new plane, and about 48 months to develop a new aircraft engine.

Meigs said he himself came to Washington before Pearl Harbor as a $1 a year man at the urging of William S. Knudson, who wanted "someone who knew something about the aircraft industry" but was not actually in it so he would be unbiased.

As the hearing opened, Ferguson said it is his intention "to thoroughly examine" the original Kaiser-Hughes plane contracts which involved about $40,000,000 in government funds. One called for the world's largest cargo flying boat now nearing tests.

He said the subcommittee expects 10 days or two weeks of hearings.

Meigs, in testimony taken at earlier secret hearings, is said to have reported a strong belief within the WPB that Kaiser's plan for a super cargo plane was not practical as a wartime venture.

Citing estimates that it would take 52 months to build such a plane, Meigs added that Kaiser had created such a public demand for action to offset-then-prevalent submarine sinkings it finally was decided to let him and Hughes have a try at it.

Consulting a diary he kept during that period, Meigs recorded the following observation after a conversation with Donald Douglas, aircraft builder:

"I have never seen Kaiser but all the people who know anything about aircraft say they all want to undertake to eat all of the airplanes he ever will build."

Hughes, millionaire movie producer and flier, also was disclosed to have told the committee in earlier testimony that, as he remembered it, the Douglas, Consolidated and Martin aircraft companies had declined to go along with Kaiser. Hughes then joined the wartime ship builder in construction of a huge cargo flying boat under a contract signed Nov. 18, 1942.

Glenn L. Martin, head of the Martin company, was on the list of today's witnesses. There were indications he would be asked if and why his company turned down Kaiser's proposal.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

A safe containing the Lincoln papers was opened one minute after midnight in the library of congress document room.

of the counter where the messages are written and held the revolver on top of the counter. Furniss told police the cardboard signs in the telegraph office window made him a little apprehensive because, although they served as a shield, they also kept him from seeing the street clearly. Mr. Long described the man as appearing to be nervous and glancing behind him while he went through with the robbery.

When Furniss left, he ran west to Union street then over to Pearl where Gruver waited with the coupe.

Gets $21 In Elyria

Furniss also confessed to the Elyria job, stating that he took $21 from the cash register there. He admitted looking at several other places before deciding to rob the uptown restaurant. He said he used the same revolver for that robbery and Gruver was again driving the car, the Packard sedan, with the Marion woman riding along.

The revolver was located in Furniss' coat pocket when officers searched the car and found the coat there.

Saturday afternoon the victim of the Western Union robbery at Lima was brought to Marion police station where she identified Furniss as the man who forced her at gun-point to turn over the $298 in the office safe. The woman clerk was alone in the Lima office when the robbery was made at 1:30 a. m. June 28. Officers Goodman and Cook of the Lima police accompanied the woman here.

Furniss said he was alone for that job and later he registered at the Waldorf Hotel in Lima where he stayed the remainder of the night, returning to Marion the next morning.

He also confessed to robbing the Reed Hotel of Lima on either July 8 or 10 taking $35 from the hotel office clerk. He wasn't certain of the date and couldn't remember if the robbery had been during the day or night. Furniss also admitted robbing a Standard Oil Filling station at Norwalk, O., when he held up the station attendant, who was alone, and took $75 from the cash drawer. That was at about 3 a. m. and Furniss said it happened about two weeks ago. Again he was vague about the exact date but stated that he did the job alone.

The Lima hotel and the Norwalk robberies had not been reported here.

Gruver admitted driving for the Marion and Elyria holdups, but denied the knowledge of the other robberies.

A victim of a Western Union robbery at Van Wert, O., was brought here Saturday to see if he could identify Furniss. He said Furniss was not the one who had robbed the office there.

Both Furniss and Gruver have past police records here that date back several years. Both men were released from a prison at Anamosa, Ia., early in March of this year after serving 34 months and 9 days of a 5-year sentence for a daytime robbery at Tipton, Ia., city police said.

Furniss has been employed recently at the Ohio Blue Limestone quarry, north of town. Gruver was employed until June 18 at an Elyria factory. At that time, he told officers he came to Marion where he rejoined Furniss at the Marion address.

Records Since 1937

Gruver was first arrested by city police in 1937 for petty larceny and sentenced to 30 days at the Columbus workhouse. In January of 1939 he was convicted of auto larceny along with Furniss, and committed to Mansfield reformatory. He escaped from there May 14, 1940, and was caught and returned on May 22. He was paroled in 1942 and given his final release early in 1944. On April 27, 1944, Gruver and Furniss were sentenced to the Anamosa, Ia. prison.

Furniss was sentenced to Mansfield reformatory in January of 1939 on auto larceny charges where he served until paroled in 1941. In 1942 he was arrested for theft of a grinder from the Marion Engineer depot. His last conviction was April 27, 1944, when he was apprehended for the daytime robbery at Tipton, Ia. and sentenced to the Anamosa prison.

OHIO ASSEMBLYMAN DIES

By The Associated Press

CHILLICOTHE, O., July 28—Robert W. Dunkle, Republican representative from Ross county in the state legislature, died at a hospital here yesterday following a stroke suffered a week ago. Prominent in state affairs of the Elks lodge, he was a past president of the Ohio Elks association.

Distillers Asked To Stop All But Scotch Shipments

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 28—Gale B. Clymer, state liquor purchasing agent, disclosed today all distillers had been asked to hold up shipments of liquor except Scotch ordered by the state between June 1 and July 8 for "the next several days."

Clymer said state warehouses were jammed for space and it was necessary to "slow down on everything until we clear up the inventory."

Liquor Director Dale Dunlton reported July 18 the department had an inventory of $42,000,000 worth of spirits.

Clymer said the exception was made for scotch shipments because the supply was low and because it was an import item coming to the department direct from the ship.

Driver Faces Charge In Municipal Court

Jesse L. White, 47, of 435 Fies avenue pleaded not guilty in municipal court today to charges of operating an automobile while intoxicated and will have a hearing at a later date. He was arrested by police on East Mill street at 11:25 a. m. Sunday.

SUGAR

sion orders proceedings now pending were ordered ended.

Persons under subpoena or notice to appear in such proceedings are now released from making their appearance.

Briefly, the new inventory controls, restricting the amount of sugar industrial users may have on hand, provide:

▶A general limitation of sugar inventories for any person (other than household users) to a maximum of 2,000 pounds;

▶A limitation for any industrial or institutional user of 140 per cent of the quantity used during the corresponding and next succeeding month ending June 30, 1947;

▶A limitation for all wholesalers or retailers to quantities equal to those sold by them during the preceding calendar month.

No limitation was placed on inventories of primary distributors, that is refiners, sugar mills and importers.

Five Arrests Made On Traffic Charges

Ronald W. Arndt, 21, was arrested by city police on West Center street at 6:22 a. m. today and charged with speeding. He was released on $25 bond and scheduled to appear in municipal court Saturday.

Jack E. Whaley, 21, of 587 North Greenwood street, pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning to a charge of reckless operation of a motor vehicle and was fined $15 and costs. He was arrested at 2:45 a. m. today on Bellefontaine avenue by city police. Both the fine and costs were suspended.

Joseph E. Brooks, 19, of 148 Glad street was arrested at 1:30 a. m. today by the state highway patrol on route 23 north of Marion and charged with driving without a license. He pleaded guilty to the charge in municipal court this morning and was fined $10 and costs.

Fred William Wiggeman, 56, of Cincinnati, forfeited a bond of $10 when he failed to appear in municipal court. He was charged with failure to obey a stop sign by the state patrol. The arrest was made on route 98 at 10:30 a. m. Sunday.

John William Hayden, 35, of 301 South Prospect street, was cited by the patrol and charged with speeding at 1:51 a. m. Sunday. He was released on $25 bond to appear in municipal court Thursday. He was arrested on route 23 south of Marion.

Salvation Army Center At Youngstown Burns

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, July 28—Loss was estimated today at between $75,000 and $100,000 in a fire which destroyed the Youngstown Salvation Army service center and five trucks.

Mrs. Horace Clifford, in charge of the Salvation Army unit in Youngstown, said a janitor, Henry Zubainski, discovered the flames where they were burning packing paper in a storeroom.

Although the janitor summoned help, the fire spread to old clothes stored in the room. Gasoline in the five Salvation Army trucks also ignited.

MRS. TRUMAN

1200 had put out its flags and lowered to half-staff. Its citizens were not demonstrative; they said they became reconciled last May to losing their most famed inhabitant.

The business establishments near the Turman cottage arranged to close up shop.

Many of the neighbors planned to go to Kansas City for the funeral, though they would have to stand outside a roped enclosure.

Relatives Are Pall Bearers

The pall bearers were easily decided—her four grandsons, and two nephews. The grandsons, children of J. Vivian Truman, who farms near Grandview, are J. C. Truman, Fred L. Truman, Harry A. Truman and Gilbert Truman. The nephews are Maj. Gen. Ralph E. Truman of Kansas City, and Murray T. Colgan who lives near Kansas City. The surviving daughter is Miss Mary Jane Truman, who lived with her mother.

Mr. Truman wrote his own brief obituary of his mother, White House spokesman revealed. It was penned from memory last May 17, while the President was anxiously flying to her side. He did it to help the newspapermen if she died.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross preserved it. He read it to newsmen last night, saying he meant to keep the original for its proof of the Chief Executive's "remarkable thoughtfulness and consideration of those around him."

Every child, every death, every move in Mrs. Truman's long life was set forth with exact dates and places. It began: "Martha Ellen Truman, born Martha Ellen Young, Nov. 25, 1852, on Parrish farm, now 36th and Prospect, Kansas City, Mo."—and went on to tell the story in less than 250 words.

BREWSTER

I was there, but he sent out another plane instead."

Hughes said in a signed letter published today in the Los Angeles Examiner that he had furnished Brewster plane transportation consisting of "a round trip in a luxurious private airplane from Washington, D. C., to Morgantown, W. Va., on Feb. 10, 1947, and a second round trip from Washington, D. C., to Columbus, O., on Feb. 11."

The Hughes letter, addressed in open form to Senator Brewster, added:

"Yes, Senator, the regular charter price for those flights is $1,400. But you didn't pay anything for them, did you?"

In the letter Hughes invited Senator Brewster to tell about these two trips "which you requested and accepted from me * * * since you think it is so horrible for anyone to accept my hospitality."

Brewster said he had "never heard anything about any $1,400" expense in connection with the flights, contending that Hughes and Frye "were flying around the country all of the time."

"If I'd known that I'd be asked to pay $1,400, I'd have hesitated to make the trip," he said. "I'd have told Mr. Hughes that he would have to wait until I got back to Washington on Wednesday."

Cincinnatian To Head Ohio Army-Navy Union

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 28—Charles R. Scanlon of Cincinnati today headed the Ohio department of the Army and Navy union.

A navy veteran with eight years service in the Philippines, Panama and Sea of Japan, Scanlon was installed as state commander Sunday at the 29th annual encampment to succeed Joseph Sutter of Barberton.

The encampment adopted resolutions requesting the government to establish a national cemetery for soldier dead in Ohio and to amend retirement regulations in the postal service "to make more vacancies" for young veterans.

Bargaining Election Scheduled at Lima

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 28—The national labor relations board today ordered that an election be held to determine collective bargaining representatives for employes of the Lima, O., division of the Ohio Power Co. before Aug. 23.

The employes will be asked to choose between the Utility Workers Union of America (CIO) and the Electric Service Employes Union, local No. 104.

2,000 AT ANNUAL ST. MARY OUTING

Program Gets Under Way with Concert by Eagles Band.

A crowd estimated at more than 2,000 attended the annual picnic and homecoming sponsored by St. Mary parish Sunday at the Marion County fairgrounds.

Festivities for the outing, the largest ever held by the parish, got under way early in the afternoon with entertainment including a band concert by Buckeye Aerie Eagles' band, a softball game, contests and games for adults and children. A refreshment stand at the grandstand provided for persons not wishing to make up picnic parties, and tables were placed throughout the grounds for use by picnic parties.

Funds realized on the outing will be placed in the St. Mary Athletic fund.

Gene Fetter was general chairman for the picnic and heading the various committees as chairmen were Mrs. Mary Maxwell, registration, Tom Dunn and Paul McKinley, refreshments; Mrs. Joseph Dunn, refreshments; Gene Gunder, athletics; Robert Murphy, Raymond McFarland and William Daughter, prizes; Robert Axe, midway; Kenneth Armbruster, grounds; Joseph Dunn, tickets; Floyd Cornely, finance.

ACCUSED SLAYER OF FOUR GOES ON TRIAL

By The Associated Press

NEW BRUNFELS, Tex., July 28 — Two months and three days after four members of a prominent San Antonio, Tex., family were ambushed and shot to death on a lonely country road near here, an equally-prominent surgeon went on trial today for the slayings.

Dr. Lloyd I. Ross, 42, San Antonio surgeon, is charged with murder in the May 25 deaths by gunshot of Willard H. York, 36, investment company head; his wife, Mrs. Gertrude O. York, 43; their son, John, 9; and York's mother, Mrs. Mary York, 67.

A special venire of 72 was called from which efforts will be made to select a 12-man jury. Officials however, freely predict this will be difficult, and may result in a change of venue.

The tragedy followed financial difficulties between York and Ross, his family physician and close friend for 10 years.

A defense plea of temporary insanity was indicated. Two San Antonio phychiatrists made five jail visits recently to see Ross

This is the story of that fatal Sunday, pieced together by officers:

The Yorks were on their way to church from their Comal county ranch home. As they rounded a sharp curve, a man carrying a rifle stepped from behind a parked car and stopped them.

He began shooting almost immediately.

York and his wife were shot dead in the front seat. Young John, York's mother and his little daughter Ann, in the back seat, apparently attempted to flee. Mrs. York was shot in the back. Her body was found sprawled in the road 12 feet from the car.

John was shot down beside the car. Ann, wounded in the hips, escaped into nearby underbrush and made her way to a ranch caretaker's home.

She has recovered, and was expected to be a star witness for the State.

Four hours after the shooting Ross walked into an San Antonio police station 31 miles away and told Detective Joe Hester that a gun which had been discharged could be found in his car. He did not say he had fired it.

GIRLS PUT ON PROBATION

Two Marion girls, age 14, were placed on probation to their mothers for one year when appearing before acting juvenile judge Paul D. Smith today on charges of staying away from home without their parents consent overnight, Friday. A 17-year-old youth who was picked up in their company by the police was fined $25 and costs on charges of conducting himself in an improper manner.

Class One railroads in this country have about 37,000 steam locomotives in service.

Columbus Vet, Bride Who Lived in Jail Given Job and Home

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 28—Life was looking up today for a 29-year-old former GI, his British war bride of 21 months, and their one-year-old son.

Not only had Ralph E. Spence—veteran of two and one-half years with the 8th Air Force in England—obtained a job, but a kind hearted Columbus woman had offered them refuge in her home.

Spence and his family had spent the last two nights on cots in City jail, unable to find lodging.

But now the Spences can stay in a room in the home of Mr. and Mrs Harold Brown.

"We had the same situation this winter when we were evicted and had to buy a home," Mrs. Brown told Columbus police in offering the room.

Brown, himself is a veteran, with service in Italy, and the couple has a small son, James Edward.

The Spences, smiling in relief, planned to move into their new quarters this afternoon and matrons at City prison spent the morning fussing over the mother, Frances, and her baby son.

sult: I have lost $14,000,000.

"So I don't think I have been defrauding the government."

In another portion of the letter Hughes said:

"And, incidentally, since you think it is so horrible for anyone to accept my hospitality, why don't you tell about the $1,400 worth of airplane trips which you requested and accepted from me?"

Hughes said the airplane transportation consisted of "a round trip in a luxurious private airplane from Washington, D. C., to Morgantown, W. Va., on Feb. 10, 1947, and from Washington, D. C., to Columbus, O., on Feb. 11."

In conclusion the letter stated:

"Yes, Senator, the regular charter price for those flights is $1,400. But you didn't pay anything for them, did you?

"Howard Hughes."

Steel Firm Increases Price $5-$8 Per Ton

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH, July 26—Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. prices will be raised from $5 to $8 a ton today, A. J. Hazlett, vice president in charge of sales, announced.

He said the increase was necessary because of the "mounting costs of labor and materials."

Hazlett indicated that a further price rise may be made if the request for an increase in railroad freight rates, now before the interstate commerce commission, is approved.

Such an increase" will affect us very seriously," he said.

DUTCH CAPTURE OIL AND COAL REGIONS

By The Associated Press

BATAVIA, JAVA, July [illegible] Dutch military headquarters announced today sweeping new successes in eastern Sumatra, including the capture virtually intact of vital coal and oil regions more than 100 miles from the jumping off point of Dutch troops at Palembang.

The advances were announced as The Netherlands navy entered the Java ports of Cheribon, Probolinggo and Banjoewangi to move immediately to normal trade in an effort to get great stores of accumulated raw materials moving to world markets.

In two separate communiques the Dutch announced that they had captured the rich Sumatra oilfield town of Batoeradja, 80 miles southwest of Palembang, and the important Boekit Asam coal mines, 20 miles further to the southwest.

Batoeradja was seized almost without resistance, the announcement said, and asserted that the occupation of the small and undeveloped vacuum oil holdings there was being consolidated. The attitude of the remaining oilfield personnel "seems favorable," the bulletin added.

Army Decorates Sailor Held for Cruelty to GI's

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 28 — Navy Chief Signalman Harold E. Hirshberg, 29, of Brooklyn, who is standing general court martial on charges of having beaten fellow prisoners in a Japanese prison camp, was decorated Friday by the army for his part in the defense of Corregidor, it was disclosed today.

Hirshberg, also accused of having informed on prisoners who planned to escape, was called from the brig to receive the army Distinguished Unit badge with oak leaf cluster from Marine Capt. James G. Petrie. His court martial was in recess until today upon the request of the defense.

Columbus Boy Discovers Parents Dead in Cellar

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 28—A 14-year-old boy found the bodies of his mother and father in the basement of their Columbus home today and Detective Sgt. John Curtiss theorized they were victims of a murder-suicide.

There were no witnesses, he said.

Sgt. Curtiss identified the couple as 48-year-old Samuel Parker, janitor for a downtown department store, and his 43-year-old wife, Lucille.

The detective said Parker apparently shot his wife with a .25 caliber automatic as she stood by the washing machine, then turned the gun on himself.

The machine still was running when the son, Clifford, came to the basement to investigate two shots he heard from an upstairs bedroom.

Pennsylvanian Returns To Jail After 18 Years

By The Associated Press

POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 28—John Homa is back in the Schuylkill county jail from which he escaped 18 years ago, glad that it is all over.

Homa, who had served 10 months of his five to 10 year sentence on a robbery charge, was brought back from Detroit by Pennsylvania officers who identified him after a routine check of fingerprints issued in a circular following Homa's arrest on a larceny charge in Detroit.

County Detective Bruce Clayton said Homa told him he was tired of dodging the law and was "glad it was all over."

Germans Getting Million Gift Packages per Month from U. S.

By HAROLD KASISCHKE
United Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, July 28—In the last year citizens in the United States have sent to needy Germans in the occupation zones nearly 13,000,000 gift packages, conservatively estimated at more than 100,000 tons of food, clothing and other items.

The private relief effort does not include the thousands of CARE (Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe) packages that have been paid for in dollars and delivered to Germans out of warehoused stocks here. It also is apart from imports of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of grain and other foodstuffs from the United States which are now borne by U. S. and British taxpayers as occupation costs.

Gift parcels come to Germany through international postal channels, sometimes in a volume of 100,000 on one ship. At the present time they are coming in at a rate of more than 400,000 per week.

Spain, Japan Excluded

As of July 15 a total of 12,900,000 parcels had arrived from the U. S. since the one-way parcel post service was authorized in June 1946. Parcels now may come from all countries of the world except Spain and Japan (which are excluded from the re-established international postal service for Germany) and they may weigh up to 22 pounds.

The service was first authorized in the U. S. occupation zone—in June 1946—so Germans in that zone have received more packages than the residents of the other three zones.

As of July 15 American zone residents had received 5,600,000 packages; residents of the British zone, where the service began last August, 4,000,000. French zone (authorized September 1946) 1,130,000. Russian zone, 1,200,000 and Berlin 170,000.

The Russians were the last to open their zone to the parcel service, authorizing it last Jan. 15.

Other Benefits Derived

In addition to providing relief the parcel service also benefits the German economy through postal revenues derived from it. In accordance with international postal agreements, the German reichspost earns an established fee for the delivery of the parcels, based on weight. Since inauguration of the service accrued fees for the combined British-American zones amount to an estimated $3,200,000. These funds are being accredited to export proceeds to help pay Germany's imports of food and raw materials, a bill now being shouldered by British and American taxpayers.

While these huge private gifts from America have received only trifling publicity in the German press of Berlin, the Soviet military administration has been making a propaganda splash about "food packages from the Soviet Union."

The Russians' official German newspaper "Taegliche Rundschau" recently spread a full page of pictures about these packages and reported that 2,500 of them had arrived within the last year "sent by Germans now living in the Soviet Union to their needy relatives in Germany."

Family Night Program Given at Grange Meeting

Ralph Williams master, was in charge at a recent meeting of Bethlehem Grange. The literary program in charge of Mrs. Robert Howald, lecturer, was based on a 'family night' theme. The program included group singing, a sketch "The Family Album" with Mrs. Wayne McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Eikenbury, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fogle, Clarence Gruber, Raymond Hinklin, Misses Doris Gruber, Jane, Betty and Jean Fogle and Janet Ullmer portraying the different characters. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kaelber provided the vocals with Miss Barbara Kaelber playing piano accompaniment for the presentation. Also included was a talk, "Four Hours in Heaven," given by Dr. Walter McClasky and a reading, "Takin' the Family Group" by Mrs. Virgil Payne.

One candidate was obligated. The charter was draped in memory of Judge Oscar Gast, a member of the Grange. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Berringer.

Marion Student One of 16 From O. W. U. Studying in Mexico

DELAWARE, O., July 28—Sixteen students at Ohio Wesleyan University came up this summer with a brand new answer to "How to spend your vacation." The answer"—go to school! Right now these 16 students of Mexican art, language, and history are having the most wonderful time of their lives down in San Miguel de Allende, Mexico, a little town 300 miles south of the border. They are members of the first class of its sort in Ohio Wesleyan history—a six-week field trip in Mexican culture.

Equipped with paintbrushes, canvas, and Spanish-English dictionaries, they left Delaware, in June with Prof. and Mrs. James Stewart. After a short stop in Mexico City, they left for San Miguel. Now they're living in the Posada de San Francisco, an inn with a penthouse two patios and a swimming pool.

Marion Student There

Myron Ferry of 135 Curtis court, in Marion, one of the five boys on the trip, starts his day at 7:30 a. m. He has breakfast at 8 o'clock, class from 9 to 10, and paints until noon. After a dip in the swimming pool, he spends about an hour and a quarter eating dinner (not lunch) in the Mexican fashion. His afternoons are for shopping, siestas, finishing paintings, bowling, tennis, swimming, or just wandering around. Supper is served at 7:30 in the Posada's dining room by young Indian girls who have mastered enough English to ask "What weel you have?" and "Are you feenished?" Myron has his evenings to brush up on his Spanish or whatever he likes, and he's in bed by 11:30.

On Sundays, Myron and the other students have the whole day to themselves. Some of them take a postman's holiday and paint some more. Some wander about San Miguel and absorb the fascinating Latin way of life. On Sunday evenings there is an orchestra in the Posada ball-room, and sometimes mariachis (wandering minstrels) sing during the supper hour.

Points on Bull Fighting

The art of bull fighting is not neglected either, for there live in San Miguel two of Mexico's outstanding novilleros (young bull fighters)—Curro Ortego and Fernando Lopez,—who are always eager to explain the fine points of bull fighting to their northern visitors.

Sometimes the class takes an afternoon off to visit local industries, like La Aurora, a textile factory. In their recent visit to La Aurora, two of the girls were as fascinated with the owner's son and nephew as they were with the textile factory, and they came away all dated up with the two dashing young gentlemen! Little wonder that they like the idea of the Good Neighbor policy, and little wonder too, that they hope the field trip will become a regular course at Ohio Wesleyan.

Both the Netherlands Indies and the Philippines number more than 7,000 islands.

HOPE FOR VOTE PROBE KILLED

G.O.P. Marks Off Kansas City Fraud Charges as Court Matter.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 28—Republican congressional leaders marked off the Kansas City vote charges today as a court matter and something to talk about in the coming political wars.

Although Senator Kem. (R-Mo) told a reporter he will not reach a decision until later, a Republican leader said it is his judgment that the issue will not be revived when congress meets again in January.

Kem had sought senate approval of a resolution calling for a special investigation of Attorney General Clark's handling of the charges of vote buying and other irregularities which arose as a result of last year's Democratic "purgs" primary in the Fifth Missouri district.

In that race, President Truman supported Enos A. Axtell, who won over incumbent Rep. Robert C. Slaughter. Axtell, however, lost to Albert Reeves Jr., a Republican, in the November election.

The charges of Kem and Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) that Clark "whitewashed" the investigation seemed almost certain to be repeated and expanded by Republican orators busying themselves with the 1948 congressional and presidential campaigns.

A state grand jury indicated 71 persons and a federal grand jury under the prodding of a special prosecutor appointed by Clark returned indictments against five.

Although Democrats generally have fought a defense battle on this political front, Senator Connally (D-Tex) arose in the senate shortly before congress adjourned early yesterday to announce that he had taken all the attacks on Clark he could stand. Clark is a Texan, first appointed to the justice department with Connally's backing.

Vitriolic Attack

In an unusually vitriolic attack on Ferguson, Connally told his colleagues: "I had no desire to engage in this debate had not the junior senator from Michigan gotten up again and covered the whole case with the vomit of his prejudice and rancor and hatred and hope and ambition."

Implying that Ferguson has the "ambition to run for President" Connally contended he hoped to further it by going to Kansas City to "conduct any kind of an investigation which would throw any slime or any opprobrium or any blame upon the attorney general of the United States or upon his chieftain, the President of the United States."

10 SLOW-MOVING BRANDS OF LIQUOR MARKED DOWN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 28—Ten slow-moving liquor brands were marked down approximately one-third in price at state stores today by an order from Ohio Liquor Director Dale Dunifon.

The price cuts ranges from $1.90 a bottle to not less than $1.50 as Dunifon hoped to speed sales of 17,000 cases of liquor originally worth more than $600,000 to the state liquor department.

The action was the department's first move to whittle down a reportedly overstocked spirits liquor inventory of $42,000,000. Dunifon reported this was more than $20,000,000 above the inventory necessary to keep state stores adequately stocked.

Dunifon predicted that other price cuts soon would follow. However, he said that one future reduction for 12 other brands would be ordered only to conform with new price quotations submitted by distillers. These reductions, Dunifon said, would amount to between one and 14 cents a bottle.

Three slow-moving brands previously had been reduced 70 cents a bottle in an unsuccessful attempt to make them popular, he said.

THE NATION TODAY

Once Again Congress Freezes Social Security at 1937 Rate

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, July 28—Until 1950 the social security tax on you—you means most workers and employers — will continue to be one per cent.

That's what the tax has been since the beginning of social security. Before it adjourned last weekend, congress voted to keep the tax at that figure until 1950.

James Marlow

Since this is a tax taken out of the income of most families, here is an explanation of it.

In the mid 1930's congress decided that workers when they grew old should get some kind of protection, and so should their families, if the workers died.

This could have taken two forms: charity or insurance. Congress decided on insurance for which the workers themselves would help pay.

Started in 1937

So in 1935 it passed the social security act, but the act didn't go into effect for two years. Starting in 1937, this is what has been happening:

On the pay they earned up to $3,000, a tax of one per cent is deducted from the pay of workers "covered" by the insurance. Not all are:

And the employers of such workers pay a tax of one per cent on the pay each worker earns up to $3,000 a year.

(Note: This particular social security tax has nothing to do with any other kind of tax, such as for unemployment.)

But no one, under the law, could start receiving any benefits from the social security system until 1940.

This gave the government a chance to build up its social security fund from the taxes it started taking in back in 1937.

Now Making Payments

But, starting in 1940, it has been making monthly benefit paymetns to:

1. Retired workers, men and women, who have reached 65.

2. An additional monthly benefit for a retired worker's wife, if she is 65, and for his unmarried children under 18.

If the retired worker over 65 dies, then monthly benefits go to:

1. His widow, is she's 65 or over.

2. His widow of any age, if she has dependent children in her care.

3. Unmarried children under 18.

4. To the dependent parents of the dead worker.

In 1940, the first year benefits were given, about 108,000 people received them. Now about 1,771,000 are receiving them. The number grows every year.

50 Million Pay

About 50,000,000 people are now paying the one per cent tax: 47,500,000 are workers and 3,000,000 are employers.

(About 25,000,000 workers are not paying the tax because they are not "covered" under the law and therefore can't receive the benefits.

(These include railroad workers (there's a separate system for them); employes of federal, state and local governments; agricultural workers; domestic servants; self-employed people, and people working for non-profit organizations.

"There's been much talk for years of bringing them, or some of them, under social security. It hasn't happened.)

The government's social security fund has taken in, through the tax, about $9,860,000,000 since 1937. After paying out benefits, it still has about $8,798,000,000.

Congress knew back in 1935, when it passed the law, that the number of people who started receiving benefits in 1940 would be comparatively small.

Anticipated Increase

But it knew this number would grow year by year as the number of people "covered" by the law reached 65 and retired.

To build up the fund to take care of the future heavy drain on it, congress voted this:

To raise the tax gradually from one per cent, starting in 1943, until it reached three per cent, starting in 1949.

But each time congress blocked the scheduled increase and finally decided to let it stay at one per cent until Jan. 1, 1948, when it would become 2½ per cent.

So the increase would have come next Jan. 1 if congress last week once more had not stepped in and said "no."

This time it decided to postpone any increase from one per cent until Jan. 1, 1950, when it is to become 1½ per cent.

(Congress, of course, between now and then may change its mind again.)

Briefly, the arguments for and against increasing the tax go like this:

For—To take care of the huge drain on the fund in the future, the tax should be hiked now.

Against—There's no immediate need for an increase because the fund has far more money than it has to pay out in benefits.

Meantime, the tax remains at one per cent.

Actor Mickey Rooney And Wife Reconciled

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, July 27—Actor Mickey Rooney and his wife, the former Betty Jane Rase of Birmingham, Ala., who had filed suit for separate maintenance, are back together again, her attorney, Leonard Wilson, said tonight.

Wilson said he will ask dismissal of the action this week.

The Rooneys were reconciled and "have decided to try again," Wilson said, after an estrangement of about six months. They have two children, Mickey Jr., two years old, and Timothy, six months.

They were married in 1944 while Rooney was stationed at an Alabama army camp.

FIRE DAMAGES TRUCK

BUCYRUS, July 28—Fire almost destroyed a truck belonging to the H. D. Stauffer trucking company of Wooster five miles west of Bucyrus Friday afternoon when the vehicle suddenly broke into flames as it was traveling west. Carl Tuttle, of Wooster, the driver, and his companion, Vernon Prater, reported to authorities that they heard a loud report and then discovered the truck on fire. Both declared there was nothing inflammable in the truck. The Bucyrus fire department extinguished the flames with chemicals.

Hardin Co. Auction To Raise Funds For New Hospital

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., July 28—Friday Aug. 1 is the date set for the countywide auction sale to be held at the Hardin county fairground. Proceeds from the sale will go toward the fund used to build the new 52-bed hospital now under construction.

All Hardin county has organized to obtain thousands of items for this sale. More than 100 prominent citizens of the county have cooperated in sponsoring the auction and most of the church, civic and social organizations of Hardin county and vicinity will be active in the sale.

Offered for auction on the fairground will be livestock including registered stock from some of Hardin county's leading herds, new and used farm machinery, equipment and tools, household furniture and appliances.

Six auctioneers have volunteered their services and it will be necessary to have two or more auctioneers selling at the same time to dispose of all the merchandise in one day.

In the art hall booths are being constructed to house the rummage sale, baked and canned goods, bazaar and miscellaneous items.

Merchandise displayed in the hall will not be at auction but will be sold as marked.

The sale will start at 9 a. m. Refreshments stands will be opened all day and a plate lunch will be served.

When Waiting is Necessary
Time often moves too slowly for us. We'd love to speed up the time needed to provide telephone service for everyone still waiting. But, unfortunately, equipment necessary for expanded service has been slow in reaching us. Material shortages and other delays beyond the manufacturers' control have hampered production. Like everyone else, we must wait our turn for new equipment. Meanwhile, we will continue to do the best we can with what we have.

REV. SLACK PREACHES AT UNION SERVICES

Former Marion Man Fills Pulpit at Epworth Church.

Epworth Methodist church was host church Sunday night for the union summer Sunday evening service for congregations of co-operating churches, with Rev. Albert Slack of Oxford, former Marion man, as the guest preacher. Rev. Slack is pastor of First Methodist church, Oxford. Organ music preceding the preaching hour was by Miss Mkye Evangeline Lawrence, and as special music, a quartet composed of Mrs. E. N. Hale, Mrs. Perry Hall, Laverne Nash and Robert Miley, sang a number with solo parts by Mr. Miley.

Rev. Slack's subject was "When Faith Becomes a Way." His opening thought was that in the face of threat of destruction of civilization today, faith seems weak, but through the Bible men can get a perspective by which to understand the strength of faith which applies today as well as in the early days of the Christian church. "Unusual obstacles" to faith today he pointed out include, especially in America, a subtle forces of life which "erode and corrode" faith which we have "not safely away" because we do not have to suffer for our beliefs in this country. And because we do not use our faith, he declared, "When we go to get it again it is not there."

Through faith, he emphasized, even the smallest things in life lose their mediocrity and become radiant. Faith is a way to lighten the path of life, a way by which humble things can be made great. "Creeds, unless reduced to the fabric of life . . . to day by day living . . . cannot mean much to us," he maintained. When democracy was a new way, feared and attacked, he said, the faith of a few in the common man proved that it would actually work. Similarly, the question, "Is the Gospel strong enough to actually transform the world?" points to Christ who actually lived His own teachings which have been carried on by many through the years. "The hope for the world, for nations and for personal lives is to take the Gospel and make it a way. We are to change the world, beginning where we live, by making faith a reality," he concluded.

Y's Men's Service Club Holds Annual Picnic

Approximately 100 attended the annual picnic for members of the Y's Men's Service club and their families Sunday at the home of Mrs. Charles Isaly on Vernon Heights boulevard and at the Y.M.C.A. The entertainment committee headed by Jack Danner arranged a ball game for members, bridge games, a golf pitch, badminton, swimming and games for the children. Because of unfavorable weather the picnic moved indoors to the Club Co-ed rooms in the Y where final contests for the children were held.

Mrs. Henry Reid prepared the food which was served buffet style. Featured was a decorated cake which she baked in honor of the annual event. Richard Myers, club president, expressed appreciation to Mrs. Isaly and presented her with a gift from the group, and appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Reid with a remembrance. Prizes to afternoon contest winners were distributed, followed by games during the remaining social period.

AUTOS FIGURE IN ACCIDENTS

Minor Damage Reported in City's Traffic Mishaps Over Weekend.

A car bearing out-of-town license plates coasted away from its parking place on West Church street near Harding High school at 12:10 p. m. Saturday and struck two other cars parked on West Church, police reported. One car belonged to Lewis Wills of 255 East Walnut street and the other was an out-of-town car. The runaway car was taken to McDaniels garage. The Wills auto was damaged on the left front fender and the one from out of town damaged on the right fender.

Slight damage was reported to two cars when an auto driven by Roscoe B. Arthur of North Kenova was stopped at the Kenton avenue Erie crossing waiting for the traffic and was struck in the rear by an auto driven by Miss Mary L. Cunningham of 149 John street. Miss Cunningham told police her foot slipped off the clutch pedal, causing her to lose control of the car.

Bus, Auto in Accident

An accident involving a Marion Rapid Transit bus and an automobile driven by Lester E. Smothers of route 1 Marion occurred at 11:05 a. m. Saturday at East Center and State street. The bus was driven by Quentin K. Smith of 581 Park street. He reported following another bus around a double parked truck before the bus and auto collided. Damage to both was slight.

A car parked on East George street near Ward-Stillson Co., was struck by a pick-up truck at 10:10 a. m. Saturday. A cab driver reported seeing the truck strike the car and continue on its way. The license number of the truck was not known, police said. The parked car was owned by Lester K. Shipe of 700 Merkle avenue. The truck was going east on East George street. The car had slight damage to the left rear fender. The accident occurred at 2:31 p. m. yesterday.

A car owned by George R. Longacre of 447 Silver street and parked on Mill street was struck by an unidentified auto whose driver left the scene. Longacre told police. The accident, which happened at 1:10 p. m. Sunday, damaged the left rear fender of the parked auto.

Three-Car Accident

Another accident involving three cars occurred at West Center street and Otley avenue at 8:35 p. m. Sunday, when J. W. Snavely of Forest told police his foot slipped on the pedals and caused him to lose control and strike a car ahead of him driven by Clarence Houk of route 3, Bucyrus. Houk was stopped behind a car making a left turn from West Center to Otley avenue. The Houk auto was knocked into another driven by Harold Cressinger of 1467 Bennett street. Slight damage to all three cars was reported.

Going south on North Main street yesterday at 5:15 p. m. a car driven by Thomas M. Shipmer of route 1 Marion collided with another driven by Lewis Ferguson of 405 Thompson street, who was also going south. Another car stopped in front of them, driven by Fred Isett of Waldo, was also involved. The three were damaged slightly.

TENNANT TO HEAD PRO GRID LEAGUE

Marion Man Named at Loop Meeting Here.

Sid Tennant of Marion was advanced to president of the Inter-State Semi-Pro Football league at a meeting of the league at Hotel Harding Sunday.

Formerly vice president, he moved into the presidency because of the resignation of Dan Rayn of Dayton, who is moving to California to take employment there.

Jerry York of Indianapolis, Ind., was elected vice president.

Franchises were issued to the six members of the league at yesterday's meeting and the final draft of league rules was approved. Marion, Dayton, Lockland and Mendon in Ohio, Indianapolis, Ind., and Sheridan, Ind. are cities represented in the loop.

League play will start Sept. 20. Marion will open its season Sept. 6 or 13 against a non-league opponent. Gene Fetter will again act as head coach and Martin Lewis, team captain last season, will be assistant coach.

A meeting of all persons who want to play with the Marion team will be held at Hotel Harding Saturday night at 7:30. Regular practices will start next month.

YOUTH GROUP HEARS QUITO MISSIONARY

Rev. Robert Savage Speaks at Masonic Hall Service.

A message by Rev. Robert Savage, missionary to Quito, Ecuador, and special music by a quartet from the Nyak Bible college at Nyak, N. Y., and other numbers were heard at the Marion Youth for Christ meeting at the Masonic hall Saturday night.

Selections by the quartet, composed of David Weinzierl, Donald Durant, Rosser Lewis and Richard Bailey, included a Negro Spiritual, "The Stone Song," which was well received by the audience. Other music was a trio number by Rev. Savage, Dr. C. E. Mershey, director of Marion Youth for Christ, and Rev. Robert A. Maugans, pastor of Pitt Memorial Baptist church, and accordion duet by Dr. Mershey and Rev. Maugans.

Rev. Savage is director of music for radio station HCJB at Quito which devotes its entire time to religious emphasis broadcasts. He took his message from Mat. 16:24. The words of Christ, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." He gave a challenge to youth for dedication and surrender for full-time Christian service, emphasizing the need for workers in the mission field, and including a description of South American wilderness and mountain country through which missionaries travel, some mountain trails so steep and hard to climb that animals cannot be used on them.

PLEADS NO BOND

Clyde Jolly, 51, of 730 Roma street was arrested by city police at 8 p. m. Sunday and charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct. The arrest was made on Roma street where he was causing a disturbance, police said. He forfeited $75 bond by failing to appear in municipal court.

Marion Bows to Lima, 5-1, in Saturday Tilt; Loses, 12-7, in Game Sunday

Cubs Feel Bite of Terriers Under New Pilot, Chernetsky

Special to The Star

LIMA, July 28—Marion's Cubs were first Ohio State league team to feel the bite of the revitalized Lima Terriers under their new manager, Tony Chernetsky, as the second-placers dropped two games over the weekend.

The Cubs lost 5-1 on Saturday night and 12-7 in the first game of a Sunday twin bill. Rain washed out the second tilt after holding up play 10 minutes in the fourth inning of the first fray.

A big six-run fourth frame which chased "Jitts" Lawrence, Marion's starting hurler, in favor of Frank Smith, helped Lima win the Sunday game. Marion collected 16 blows off Glen Flory. Lima starter who won his third straight game, and Jerry Kowalski who relieved him in the eighth.

Forbes Gets Homer

Jim Forbes slapped out a homer for Marion but that was matched by Flory and Sam Daversa, Lima first sacker. Flory now has two hits in nine times up in organized baseball and both have been homers.

The Cubs left 15 men stranded in Sunday's game and that's the story of the loss.

Saturday night Dick Struhs hurled a brilliant game for Lima in winning his 11th decision against eight losses. He scattered a half-dozen blows and the lone Cub run came in the seventh after two outs on a triple to center by Gene Bobzean and Forbes' single to right.

Win in Second

Lima got one in the second without a hit on two walks, a steal of third by Jack Maisch and an infield roller. The Terriers added another in the fifth on a triple by Jim Grimes and single by Don Slater.

Two more came over in the sixth on a walk and two singles and a triple. The final marker in the seventh came on an error by Smith, a single and a double rundown by Marion which failed with one Lima runner scoring and the other getting back to first safely.

The rained out game was rescheduled for Aug. 25 here, an open date.

Cowell Reese of Ada To Coach at Forest

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., July 28—Lowell Reese, of Ada, was appointed head coach of Forest High school at a meeting of the board of education.

Mr. Reese graduated from Ohio Northern university in 1935, where he majored in physical education, biological science and mathematics. He had seven years coaching experience before going to Ada high in 1942. He saw army service in Italy and in the Vosges mountain area of France. He was wounded severely on Oct. 11, 1944, just before the final push across the Moselle river. Since his discharge in April 1945, he has been recovering from the effects of his wounds and has not been active in the coaching field.

The Forest faculty is now complete with the exception of a teacher for home economics and one for Latin and girls' physical education, according to P. W. Thomas, school superintendent.

Zanesville Wins To Tighten Grip On League Lead

By The Associated Press

The Zanesville Dodgers had a tighter grip atop the Ohio State baseball league today.

The long-time loop leaders defeated the Newark Browns 9-4, Sunday while the runner-up Marion Cubs lost to the cellar-dwelling Lima Terriers 12-7.

The Dodgers cut loose with seven runs in the seventh inning of the game at Newark, forcing the retirement of James Merkle, who until then had allowed only one hit. A night game scheduled at Zanesville was rained out.

At Richmond, Ind., the Muncie Packers edged the Roses 8-7 in 11-innings. Shortstop Tom Florence tripled to drive home centerfielder Lloyd Foster with the big run. Rain washed out the nightcap and also forced postponement of a Dayton-Springfield doubleheader. The clubs are scheduled to try again tonight.

The line scores:

LOCKE TAKES GOLF OPEN AT COLUMBUS TO TOP MONEY BOYS

Moves on to St. Paul Playing at $7.39 Per Stroke Clip.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 28—With $20,537.50 in his pocket after less than four months of playing over American courses, South African golf champion Bobby Locke headed today toward another payoff in the St. Paul, Minn., $10,000 open scheduled July 31-Aug. 3.

The benickered clouter from the dark continent fired a scintillating 274, a mere 14 under par, to win the second annual Columbus open yesterday by five strokes over Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., and leaped right out front in the money-won list.

Ben Hogan, who has led the parade all season, wound up in a ninth place tie with 289, picking up $306 while Locke was getting $2,000, and the little fellow from Hershey, Pa., skidded to third in the cash list behind Demaret, who grabbed $1,400 for his 179 effort.

In playing 10 medal play tournaments, Locke has fired 2,777 shots in this country, and has collected $20,527.50—that figures out at $7.39 every time he has swung a club in competition, not counting what he's picked up on some lucrative exhibitions.

After Demaret's 279, five strokes back of the invader, came Melvin (Chick) Harbert of Detroit with 283, much of it due to a course-record 32-32—64 in the third round, two strokes better than the Columbus country club had ever been negotiated. Chick skidded to a 75 on the final round, however.

Former Mar-O-Del Pro Plays in Tournament

W. C. (Bud) Baker, former professional at the Mar-O-Del club registered a score of 164 for the first two rounds of the Columbus Open golf tournament at the Columbus Country club Saturday. Baker, who is now a pro at the Galion Country club, made the first round in 86 and the second in 78.

Burbrink, Flamini Top OSL in Hitting And Pitching List

Manager Nelson Burbrink now has a 30-point lead over his nearest competitor in the Ohio State league batting race.

Figures compiled by the Howe News bureau give the Marion catcher a hefty average of .398, with Bob Verrier of Richmond in second place with a mark of .368. Newark's Johnny Batt is third with .354.

In addition to Burbrink's lead in batting percentage, he also tops the circuit in runs batted in with 70 and runs scored at 69.

Dwight Maxhimer is tied with Burbrink and Bill Scally of Springfield in the home run leadership with seven each. Jack Maisch of Lima leads the loop in hits with 105 and also in total bases with 153.

Bert Flamini, Marion southpaw, is the league's leading twirler with four wins without defeat. Since the averages only cover games up to July 22, it does not include Bert's win against Richmond Thursday night. Sandy Lambert of Zanesville has won the most games, 15, while suffering 5 defeats.

Plain City Knocks Legion Out of District Meet, 4-2

Locals Come Back Sunday to Whip Shelby, 7-5, in Non-Tournament Game.

Marion's junior Legion team was knocked out of the district tournament Saturday by Plain City, 4-2, at Ohio State university, but came back in a non-tournament game yesterday to defeat Shelby, 7-5, at Shelby.

The locals were undefeated until Friday, then St. Charles beat them 5-0 and Saturday's loss knocked them out of a chance to get a crack at the sixth district crown.

Pitching for Marion was good in all games this weekend. Jack Owens, although losing to St. Charles, was sparing with the hits, and Edward Roseberry, loser to Plain City, wasn't backed up with enough hitting from the Marion boys.

Chapman Gets Win

It was Dan Chapman who got credit for the win against Shelby. He allowed five hits, while the locals got to Fackler for four and took advantage of five Shelby errors.

Both Jim Hill and Doug Kneisley, regular Marion third baseman and regular catcher, were out of the lineup. Hill is vacationing in Michigan and Kneisley suffered a broken finger against Galion, July 20.

A little gratification can be felt by the locals, even though they were knocked from the tourney. F. D. Van Grundy, chairman of junior baseball in the sixth district praised the Marion program the best set up in the district.

Chairman Guesses Wrong

After seeing the Marion-Lima junior game, he predicted that Marion would take sixth district honors. St. Charles and Plain City showed that even a district chairman can be wrong.

Marion will continue to schedule other opponents throughout the summer.

"IT WAS THAT LONG." George Payton (left), of Hampton, Va., seems to be showing Bobby Locke, ultimate winner, about the one that got away and that is just what happened. Payton missed an 18-inch putt Saturday on the 18th green that placed him in a three-way tie with Locke and Jimmy Demaret with a 72-hole total of 138 in the Columbus, O., $10,000 open. Locke went on to win yesterday.

Cubs To Remain Idle Until Wednesday Night

While Manager Nelson Burbrink, Dwight Maxhimer and Bill Rosin are in Zanesville playing the All-Star game, the remainder of the Bruins will be idle until Wednesday night.

The Richmond Roses will be here Wednesday, one day ahead of the announced schedule to play off a game rained out here the last trip.

The Roses will also furnish the opposition Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The Muncie Packers, who for the last month have caught fire and moved from seventh place to third, come to Lincoln park for three days starting with a doubleheader Sunday.

Marysville Cycle Race Draws Crowd of 2,000

The motorcycle races held yesterday by the Triangle Motorcycle Club of Marion and the Heart of Ohio Club of Marysville at the Union county fairgrounds track in Marysville drew a crowd of 2,000 persons despite rain which compelled cancellation of the chief drawing card, the running of the expert class final heats.

Speed cyclists from cities throughout the United States were entered in the competition for the $900 prize money offered. Two class events were run off and included the novice and amateur riders. Qualifiers for the finals which were rained out were Kenneth Engle, B. B. Smith, Jack Kulan, William Steigel and Harry Caldwell.

FREY LEADIN TEAM

Charlie Frey, last year an outfielder here, is at present leading his Johnson City, Tenn., team in batting with a mark of .358. Bob Kline, who ended the 1946 season as the Marion manager, is the pilot at Johnson City. Another former Marion player, Don Dix, is business manager of the same club in the Appalachian league.

MILLISOR PITCHES 2ND NO-HIT GAME FOR SMITTY'S TEAM

Gives All Stars 7-0 Victory; Crystals Win, Maids Lose.

Harold "Fats" Millisor pitched Smitty's All-Stars to a 7-0, no-hit victory over Atlas Linens at Crystal Lake park last night. It was the second no-hitter of the season for Millisor.

In the afternoon, Marion Crystals extended a win streak that has lasted all summer by defeating the Cub Training School, Mansfield, 12-2.

The Maids were finally beaten, Wilkes Meats of Columbus shutting them out, 4-0, in a night game.

The All-Stars bunted to victory in the six-run third inning. Millisor helped his cause along with a home run and another hit. Walters and R. Culver also hit twice.

Roseberry hit three for five as the Crystals turned in a lopsided win on the same number of hits allowed the visitors.

Evelyn Feyh, pitcher for the state girl's softball champs last year, turned the trick of beating the previously undefeated Maids. Barrett got two of the Maids four hits.

Wednesday night at 8 p. m. the All-Stars play Fostoria K. of C. and at 9 p. m. the Maids are booked with the J. and K. Girls of Columbus, state women's softball champs last year.

BLUE BIRDS LOSE TWO TILTS AT ARMY POST

Wright Field handed Marion Blue Birds defeats at Dayton Saturday and yesterday afternoons.

The Birds led up to the fifth inning in each game, but lost out, 17-9, in the first and, 11-9, in the second.

Jim Harbolt was leading Marion hitter in Saturday's affair, getting three for four and Bud England hit twice in two times at bat. Bob England banged out three doubles and a single for a perfect day in the second game.

Williams and Walker Giving Flag Races Different Outlook

By The Associated Press

The pennant picture in the major leagues has taken on a new aspect in recent days all because of a couple of real professionals—Ted Williams and Dixie Walker.

Only a week ago experts were predicting a New York Yankees rout in the American league flag race while forecasting another nerve-tingling down-to-the-wire finish in the National. The Yankees were 12½ games ahead of the Boston Red Sox while the Brooklyn Dodgers were only two and a half in front of the Boston Braves and New York Giants.

But today, the Red Sox, led by Williams, once again the "Terrible Teddy" of the 1941 and '42 seasons, have cut three full games off the Yankees' lead and now trail by nine and half games.

7 Game Bulge

The Dodgers, with Walker hitting with the same old gusto that established him as the "People's Cherce" in Flatbush, have opened up a seven game bulge over the second place St. Louis Cardinals.

Williams, stymied by the assorted shifts set up against his left handed pull hitting, finally broke through the unorthodox defense with a tremendous power display that enabled him to raise his early July average of .297 to .330. During the past three weeks, Ted has been belting at a .420 clip.

Walker bettered his July 8 mark of .279 to an even .300 in three weeks.

Dixie drove in three runs yesterday to help the Dodgers sweep both ends of a doubleheader from the Pirates in Pittsburgh 8-4 and 11-4, and extended their latest winning streak to nine.

Bosox Dump Browns

The Red Sox took two from the St. Louis Browns in Boston, 4-3 and 12-2. Tex Hughson and Dave Ferriss were the winning pitchers.

The Yankees lost a full game from their lead when they were held to a split in their doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox. After Bobo Newsom had won his fourth straight game in a Yankee uniform by pitching a 7-4 win, the White Sox came back to win the nightcap, 5-4.

The Cardinals lost a game and half to the Dodgers when the Braves, behind the seven-hit pitching of Johnny Sain, handed them a 10-3 lacing. The Braves pounded Harry Brecheen and four other pitchers for 18 blows, including seven doubles and Holmes' home run.

The Giants staged a 16-hit attack, including Bobby Thomson's 19th home run, to defeat the Chicago Cubs 12-6. The Cubs used six pitchers.

Wins First Game

Oscar Judd won his first game of the season as the Philadelphia Phillies divided a doubleheader with the Reds in Cincinnati. After Kent Peterson had pitched the Reds to a 5-1 win in the first game. Judd outlasted three Red-leg hurlers to give the Phillies a 6-4 nightcap win.

Third place Detroit lost an opportunity to gain on the Yankees when they were held to a split by the Athletics in Philadelphia, the A's coming back to win the second game 5-0 after Detroit had won the opener 5-1.

Manager Lou Boudreau drove in both Cleveland runs to give the Indians a 2-1 victory over the Senators in Washington as Feller relieved Al Gettel in the sixth to hold the victory. Boudreau made two of the Indians' five hits against Early Wynn.

SCHLAIRET DEFEATS COLUMBUS NINE, 14-3

Stages 9-Run Uprising to Win Over Bluhme Barbers.

Schlairet Transfer defeated Bluhme Barbers of Columbus 14-3, at McKinley park yesterday afternoon. The game was called in the eighth because of rain.

A crowd estimated at over 350 turned out.

Weber started the big fourth off after a double steal, smashing home two runs and later Somerlot drove in two more to give Schlairet nine in that stanza.

Next week Schlairet will play Thew Shovel of Lorain, a class A club, which plays in Cleveland company, at McKinley park at 2:30 p. m.

Player Outsmarts Ump—but Arbiter Gets in Last Word

A baseball player finally outsmarted an umpire, but he didn't get away with it.

Leslie McGarity, catcher for Brewton of the Alabama State league, was caught in a run down between third and home the Sporting News reports. Quickly he called on the ump for time and reacting automatically to the situation the man in blue bawled "Time."

Then McGarity walked slowly back to third base and called, "play ball."

The embarrassed arbiter, with injured dignity, called McGarity out for "interference with the progress of the game," thus getting the last word.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"WHEN I asked Phil to tell Noel about breakfast with Mary," I began, setting comfortably into my chair, for I knew I should not be able to leave it until I had satisfied Dicky's curiosity, "he said very coldly that the would give Noel the message but that the request emphasized the things he said last night, and later withdrew, and that it looked to him as if Mary were making a most remarkable recovery."

"Why, the old so-and-so and such-and-such and dis and dat and dem and dose!" Dicky exploded. "I'll teach him to call you a liar right to your face!"

He was starting to the door when I caught him by his sleeve.

"Calm down!" I adjured him. "Phil did, and he not only promised to give the message to Noel but said he would come down here himself in two hours. So please rein in your war charger."

"Oh, all right, all right," he yielded sulkily, permitting me to draw him back to his chair. "But some day that bozo is going too far. He's too old for me to bent him up, and duels at six paces aren't permitted in our glorious country, although I think old Phil would love to fight one. But there's nothing in the constitution to prevent me from turning him over my knee and applying my leather-soled slipper where it will do the most good. I'll do it, too, one of these fine days. Want a box-seat at the performance? I'll get you one for free."

Helpless With Laughter

I shook my head. I was too helpless with laughter at the picture he had conjured up for coherent answer.

Dicky grinned at me, and I found speech.

"Cheshire Cat!" I said.

"Don't start any name-calling," he warned, "or I'll unleash my own vocabulary."

"If you unleashed it all, I should be obliged to call the police," I said placidly.

"Now that you've got that bon mot off your chest," he said, "suppose you tell me what Mary's going to do. Is she insisting that Noel be told the truth immediately, if not before, or is she willing to let his dad have an eatful first?"

I shook my head ruefully.

"If Phil doesn't play up, I don't know what I shall do," I said. "I finally persuaded Mary to say nothing to Noel by painting a graphic picture of the state of mind into which the truth about the cause of her mental suffering would throw him."

Heady Admiration

"So you really put it over!" my husband exclaimed, with heady admiration in his voice. "Good girl! My compliments!"

He kissed me with swift, tender mockery, then spoke quickly.

"I don't think we have much more time," he said, with a glance at the bedroom door. "But how in the hinges did you get Mary to consent to your telling Phil first, as I gather she did?"

"Yes, and there's where I'm afraid I'm stymied," I replied. "I virtually assured her that Phil would never reveal to Noel that he had the information first, and that she could tell Noel about it some time in the future when they were in their own apartment and things had quieted down a bit."

"It all comes back to Phil," Dicky said thoughtfully. "Well, you've handled him before, and I fancy you can do it again. But if you do run into difficulties, remember I'm back of you. After breakfast, I'll rub up my technique of matches under the finger nails, and a few other little tricks."

"Don't talk that way, even in jest," I said with a little shudder.

"And don't you worry!" he said, clapping me on the shoulder encouragingly. "I'm betting on you. Old Phil will be eating out of your hand before the interview's over, and loving it."

A Dramatic Attitude

He struck a dramatic attitude and glowered at me.

"But I'm warning you, woman!" he said. "If he starts slobbering over the hand and nibbling it in that foreign fashion of his, I won't be responsible for my conduct."

I made a face at him from a vantage point safely near the door leading to the bedroom.

"Please go and waken Faith and see that she's ready for breakfast inside of half an hour," I said. "I really must go to Mary now."

But Mary came to me, flinging open the bedroom door just as I reached it and missing Dicky's exit from the sitting room by only the fraction of a second.

"Oh, Auntie Madge!" she exclaimed. "I just couldn't wait a second longer! Did you get Noel, and what did he say?"
